Pine Bush Youth Lost at Grand Canyon

(Special to The Freeman)

By MATT SPIRENG

GRAND CANYON, ARIZ.

On the night of May 15, David P. Haas, 21, of Pine Bush, a hamlet in Orange County, was seen climbing into his sleeping bag in the Hermit Camp area of the desolate and dangerous Grand Canyon National Park. The next morning he was nowhere to be seen, although all his gear remained where it had been the night before.

With only the above facts to go on, park rangers have searched for Haas for a week. Not only have they not found him, they have not found even one clue as to his whereabouts.

"We're having a real hard time searching," a Park Service spokesman told The Freeman late Wednesday. "The leads are pretty sketchy."

The Hermit Camp area, where Haas was last seen more than a week ago by a girl sleeping nearby, is a plateau region below the rim of the awesome gap in the earth's crust. It is approximately 1,500 feet above the floor of the canyon, and is 10 miles on foot from the nearest developed area, where National Park Service headquarters are located.

There were approximately 20 people camping in the Hermit Camp area the night Haas disappeared, but none have been able to aid rangers, for none saw the young Pine Bush man after midnight, May 15. That they did not see him is not unusual, because the Hermit Camp area—which is not an organized campground—measures a half mile square.

Rangers were informed of Haas' disappearance on May 17, the park spokesman said, and they began the search with planes and helicopters. Now, a week later, they are only searching intermittently on foot, the spokesman told The Freeman. "We don't have anything to go on," he explained.

"With summer coming up, search activities will be further curtailed," he said, explaining that temperatures rise above 100 degrees in the canyon during the season. "A lot depends on how many—if any—new leads we get," he added.

Asked if there are any theories as to what happened, the park spokesman, who is a ranger, said, "He could have fallen off a cliff, he could have hiked out, he could have left the country—or anything."

The word of Haas' disappearance has reached the youth's home town, where he graduated in 1969 from Pine Bush High School. Robert Foote, director of guidance and pupil personnel, told The Freeman that Haas was a "very good student" and an athlete. He graduated seventh in his class, played football and was on the track team, and attended Cornell University for two years.

Haas' mother, Mrs. Henry Haas of 125 Depot Street, Pine Bush, is vacationing in Florida, where park officials were finally able to contact her after what was described as "considerable difficulty."

The mysterious disappearance of David Haas is not unique, according to the park spokesman. Three years ago a Turkish youth studying in the U.S. disappeared under similar circumstances, leaving his gear behind. No trace of him has been found since.

But the park spokesman explained, "It is entirely possible to miss someone" while searching in the 673,573-acre national park.

MCCORD (L) AND ATTORNEY FENSTERWALD AFTER WATERGATE HEARING. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Former Attorney Disputes McCord

WASHINGTON (AP) — James McCord Jr.'s former lawyer Gerald Alch today offered to take a lie detector test to back his denial that he ever suggested the Central Intelligence Agency be blamed for the Watergate wiretapping.

He also offered to submit to a lie detector test to back his statement that McCord's present lawyer Bernard Fensterwald, once told him, "We're going after the President of the United States."

Alch was questioned at length at the Senate's televised Watergate hearings as both Republicans and Democrats sought to shake Alch's contention that McCord had lied. Alch refused to back down.

Alch conceded that on some points, McCord might have misunderstood things he said. But he insisted that would not have been possible in the CIA matter.

Alch acknowledged in response to questions by Senate Watergate committee counsel Samuel Dash that McCord might have possibly misinterpreted some of Alch's remarks in December and January.

But the Boston attorney said "in my judgment that would be giving him the benefit of a doubt to which he is not entitled."

Alch had read a lengthy prepared statement to the Senate panel Wednesday in which he accused McCord of lying in some accounts McCord had given the committee Friday and Monday.

While Alch testified, McCord sat in the hearing room taking notes. Bernard Fensterwald, day denied that he ever suggested McCord should blame the Central Intelligence Agency for the wiretapping. He specifically denied telling McCord his CIA personnel records could be falsified.

He also said McCord passed up three opportunities to cooperate with federal prosecutors during the trial in return for leniency.

And he said McCord tried to shame the government into dropping its case against him.

He did this by calling the Washington embassies of Israel and Chile in hopes of being overheard on wiretaps which the government would be too embarrassed to admit in court, Alch said.

of presidential clemency to McCord.

But Alch and Caulfield dispute McCord's self-portrait of a man interested only in seeing justice done.

They paint him instead as a man who tried desperately to stay out of jail, and who spread blame to his superiors only after a jury convicted him of wiretapping, burglary and conspiracy. The length of McCord's sentence now depends in part on how well he cooperates with investigators.

Alch, a law partner of famed lawyer F. Lee Bailey, Wednesday denied that he ever suggested McCord should blame the Central Intelligence Agency for the wiretapping. He specifically denied telling McCord his CIA personnel records could be falsified.

Watergate Dominates Local GOP Gala

By LYNN MULVANEY

LIBERTY

There were no excuses for Watergate voiced at the $50 a plate Gilman Gala attended by 500 at Grossingers Wednesday night but rather, urgings by U. S. Sen. Robert A. Taft and others to allow the government to get on with and give priority to business at hand.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, main speaker at the dinner which honored Congressman Benjamin A. Gilman (R-26th Dist.), suggested that Watergate "has been an undermining factor in giving support to those trying to conduct business at hand."

Taft referred to Watergate as "a tragic affair" which cannot be condoned but, he added, the people can and will regain confidence in the administration under the procedures being followed in which those responsible must answer.

Taft was critical of the news media and others for sitting in judgment concerning Watergate. He reminded his audience that citizens still have the right to be assumed innocent until proven guilty.

Congressman Gilman, at a press conference after the dinner said he felt that "Watergate does not reflect on the Republican Party... that responsible Republicans don't stand for Watergate and that Watergate does not stand for responsible Republicans."

He said that initially local public reaction to the Watergate incident was limited but that he has received a great deal more mail concerning it during the last week and has heard much comment on the street. He said that most people want to see the White House returned to integrity... that while the average person does not condone what happened, they think the government is taking the proper steps and that once this is accomplished, proper government will be returned to Washington.

The affair was star-studded with television and movie personality Larry Blyden, former Congressman Jack Terry of Syracuse and Rep. Donald Mitchell of the 31st Congressional District speaking in behalf of Gilman.

Acting speaker of the New York State Assembly and former mayor of Troy, Neil Kelleher was master of ceremonies and Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. (R-25th Dist.)

and his father, former Congressman Hamilton Fish were guests as was Assemblyman Louis Ingrassia (R-98th Dist.).

Ulster County was represented by Vice Chairman Edwin Callahan who in turn represented County GOP Chairman Albert Spada who has been ill during the past week. Anthony Prizziosi was a co-chairman of the dinner with Michael Gurda of Orange County and Joseph Balsamo of Rockland County. A number of Ulster County Republicans attended the affair.

Taft, who confined his talk mainly to Watergate said he welcomed resultant staff changes in the White House although he feels we cannot afford to lose sight of our part of Watergate on our national security in view of negotiations for a security arms agreement, the Vietnam negotiations, the "European situation" which he said needs a "new look" and the war powers bill. He also expressed concern for health bills and congressional appropriation of "money we don't have."

Among the many who came to honor Gilman were Assemblyman Lawrence Herbst (R-97th Dist.), former Assemblyman Jack McBride, Orange County Executive Louis Mills, State Racing Commissioner Fred Mance, Dr. Carmine Freda, Rockland County GOP chairman, Assemblyman Peter Biondo of Westchester County and Assemblyman Vincent Riccio of Kings County.

Also William E. Doulin, Orange County GOP chairman, Pat Damiani, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and Larry Diorio, International Brotherhood of Laborers.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller sent best wishes to Gilman whom he praised for having previously made "a unique contribution" as an assemblyman in the executive and legislative affairs of the state.

Astros Set for Space Repair Work

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The three Skylab 1 astronauts have a go for launch Friday morning to intercept their damaged space station in orbit and attempt to shade it from the baking heat of the sun.

Project officials said Skylab may have ripped metal, wires and rods hanging from its golden skin, but they expressed confidence the pilots could mend the station without undue risk and stay aloft for a record 28 days.

Ground crewmen worked quickly today to load three different types of sunshades and debris clearing tools aboard the modified Apollo Weitz, were ready. The weather forecast was good.

The leaders of the emergency Skylab salvage effort reviewed all aspects of preparations at a smoothly and space veteran meeting that ended late Wednesday night in Huntsville, Ala. NASA said the officials confirmed Friday's 9 a.m. EDT launch time.

The orbiting Skylab, they concluded, was completely stripped of its aluminum sun-meteoroid shield shortly after launch May 14 with only debris left in its place.

Engineers also believe one of Skylab's two main electric power generating wings was lost as the ship rocketed through the still-thick atmosphere 63 seconds after liftoff. The other power wing is believed to have started to unfold before being jammed by debris. Skylab's electricity is now coming from four smaller panels that convert sunlight into power.

The loss of half its power generating capability is serious, but Skylab's most critical problem is overheating from the sun. The interior of Skylab is like an oven and must be cooled to be habitable.

One of the three sun shades is expected to solve the problem and lower interior temperatures from the mid 120s to the 70s in 12 hours.

The astronauts first will try to insert a lopsided, orange and silver umbrella through an airlock in the sunny side of Skylab's main wall. If the parasol fails, Kerwin will walk in space and try to raise a 24-foot tarpaulin over Skylab. In case both those shades fail, the astronauts will return to their Apollo, undock from Skylab, open the Apollo hatch and try to hitch a large nylon sail to both ends of the station.

Record Saugerties Budget

By JON POWERS

SAUGERTIES

An estimated $6.90 per thousand tax increase looms for residents of the Saugerties Central School District after the Board of Education adopted its tentative 1973-74 budget at a special meeting Wednesday night.

The proposed budget totals $6,297,535.75. It is $384,096.75 higher than the 1972-73 budget narrowly approved by the voters last year.

According to John O'Rourke, chairman of the school board's budget committee, if the spending measure is approved by voters this year, taxes will increase by an estimated $6.90 per $1,000 of assessed valuation. "This is a stand-pat budget," said O'Rourke. "We'll have to run the school district as is... with no improvements whatsoever."

O'Rourke noted that the proposed budget is still $100,000 less than the budget submitted by administrative officials several weeks ago.

"They submitted a budget," said O'Rourke, "that would have meant a $20 increase in taxes. We told them to go back and cut their proposals by $100,000."

The school board was apparently satisfied with the administration's trimming efforts. "There's no place we can cut this budget any more," said O'Rourke, "without seriously hurting the programs in the school district."

For that reason, O'Rourke said he believes district residents will approve the budget when they vote on June 12.

A public hearing on the budget will be held next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the Saugerties High School Auditorium. O'Rourke said that if any residents want the budget either increased or decreased, he will invite them to petition the school board to place separate resolutions on the ballot.

Last year, voters approved the $5.8 million budget, but defeated three propositions that would have allocated an extra $121,000 for continuation of the interscholastic athletics program, formation of a child study program and the rental of modular classrooms. The sports proposition, which was defeated by a scant 40 votes, was later resubmitted to the voters and approved by a 2-1 margin.

O'Rourke noted that the projected $384,000 budget increase is primarily reflected in salary increases for teachers. He noted that the contract with maintenance employees has not yet been settled, but that money has been provided for in the budget to cover whatever increases there are in the contract.

Also reflected in the proposed budget is a 2½ per cent increase in state aid for textbooks, which O'Rourke said the district will "definitely receive."

They had hoped for a five per cent increase in state aid through an increase in state aid per pupil, but the legislature has killed any hopes of that funding hike this year.

"This is a status quo budget," said O'Rourke. "The only items we could possibly eliminate are athletics, driver education or busing. That will be up to the voters."

The $6.2 million budget is the highest ever in the Saugerties district, and represents a 6.3 per cent increase over the 1972-73 figure.

Water Meter Motion Misses in Rosendale Village

By CARL GRAHAM

ROSENDALE A motion by Trustee Barbara DeStefano to install water meters in Rosendale failed to clear the village board Wednesday night for lack of a second. Mrs. DeStefano said that installing meters would help conserve water and would be the most equitable way of charging for water. "We have people living on fixed incomes—why should they pay the same as a family with several children and a swimming pool?" she asked.

The other trustee, Mrs. Harriet Mulligan, said that a referendum will be held later this year on hooking the village into the New York City Aqueduct and that action should wait until the referendum is held at a still-to-be-determined date and Mayor Robert Sheehan agreed with her.

The question drew several comments from members of the audience. Mrs. Ruth Gheer complained about the quality of water from the village supply, telling Mrs. DeStefano: "I feel that we should get good water first. You are asking me to pay for water that we haven't drank for two years."

Mrs. DeStefano replied that the water must still be paid for and that meters were the most equitable method of charging for it. Another motion by Mrs. DeStefano won unanimous support when she proposed that the village investigate the possibility of building a three-bay garage behind the village hall on Main Street for village vehicles. She noted that the village had received $15,507 in revenue sharing funds and could pay for the garage out of that. She pointed out that the present garage was too small for the truck recently purchased by the village.

The board voted to direct letters to the Interstate Commerce Commission and the State Attorney General after hearing a complaint from Paul Cahill about the condition of the Penn Central Railroad crossing at Mountain Road and Keator Avenue. Cahill said the crossing was in terrible shape and was a traffic hazard. The board decided to contact state and ICC authorities after Sheehan said he had tried several times without success to contact Penn Central officials to discuss the matter.

The roster of appointive village officers, which underwent a thorough shakeup at the reorganizational meeting in April, changed again when the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Sally Byers as village treasurer effective June 1. Mrs. Byers cited other commitments that prevented her from holding the office. Mrs. Viola Morelli was unanimously approved as her replacement when her name was submitted by Mrs. Mulligan.

The board accepted the resignation of Walter Byers from the committee that been named to study the possible dissolution of the village into the Town of Rosendale. The proposal apparently died with the resignation, as he was the last person remaining on the committee and the board took no action to name a replacement. The board also appointed David Crookston to a full time position with the highway department.

The board voted to advertise for bids on a front-end loader and four pieces of CB radio equipment owned by the village, including a base station, two portable units and one mobile unit. Mrs. Helen Matthews reported that the Rosendale Women's Club had planted 1,400 petunias in the village and expressed the hope that village residents would cooperate in efforts to make the village more attractive. She said the club had concentrated its efforts on Main Street this year and hoped to be able to do something for other areas next year, and thanked Sheehan for the village's cooperation.

Sheehan said the village had been unable to locate anyone to serve as dogcatcher. He said that the town dogcatcher had agreed to come into the village on emergency cases until the village fills the post.

Sheehan said that village crews would begin sweeping streets tonight (Thursday) and asked residents to cooperate by not parking overnight. Violators will be ticketed, he said. He also noted that hydrants would be flushed next Tuesday night (May 29) and warned that water might be muddy for a while after flushing is completed.

Parking will be banned on Main Street for Memorial Day, May 29, Sheehan noted.

Three Are Reappointed By Koenig to City Boards

KINGSTON Mayor Francis R. Koenig announced the reappointment of commissioners on the urban renewal agency, the Water Board and the Housing Code Commission but there is still no word on the filing of the vacancy on the police board, open since May 1.

William T. (Wing) Mahoney of 37 Hoffman Street was reappointed to a five-year term on the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency effective June 30, which will expire on July 1, 1978.

Frank C. Sass of 142 Hunter Street was reappointed to a five-year term on the Water Board, effective June 1 and expiring on May 31, 1978.

John H. Haulenbeck of 367 Washington Avenue was reappointed to a five-year term on the Housing Code Commission, effective May 22 to expire on May 6, 1978.

Sass, a former president of the Water Board, ran unsuccessfully for mayor (with Koenig as alderman-at-large) in 1963. Mahoney, the senior member of the urban renewal agency in point of service—he was originally appointed by former Mayor Raymond W.

Garraghan in 1966—is a former Kingston Democratic chairman.

As to police commissioner, Koenig said today that he is still working on it. Apparently he has an appointee: "I'm still waiting for a resume," he said. The term of Police Commissioner John Napoleon expired on May 1. He had been on the board for eight years.

Also on tap is an appointment to the Recreation Commission—the term of Emile Taiclet expires next Thursday and three appointments to the Historic Landmarks Commission—the resignations of Fred Johnston, Harry Thayer and Mrs. Elizabeth Donnaruma have been accepted by the mayor.

Koenig had "no comment" today on a proposal by his Republican opponent in the mayoral election, William B. Merrill Jr., to merge the city and the town of Ulster. Merrill spoke at a press conference on Wednesday.

Kissinger Aide Talks With Thieu

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. envoy A. Kissinger, Sullivan, Hanoi's William H. Sullivan conferred with President Nguyen Van Thieu for an hour today on proposals to strengthen the Vietnam cease-fire, then met with Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam for further discussions.

British Scandal: 2nd Resignation

LONDON (AP) — Lord Jellicoe, the Conservative government's leader in the House of Lords, has resigned because his name was linked with a ring of call girls.

He was the second member of Prime Minister Edward Heath's government to admit consorting with prostitutes. A junior member, air force minister Lord Lambton, resigned Tuesday.

Jellicoe, 54, said in a letter to Heath: "When you told me yesterday that my name was being linked with allegations about a ring of call girls, I thought it best to tell you that unhappily there was justification for this because I had some casual affairs which if publicized would have been the subject of criticism."

Jellicoe, a former navy minister, sat in the cabinet as Lord Privy Seal. Lambton was not a cabinet member.

Heath promised a statement to the House of Commons later today on the growing sex scandal rocking his government.

It was the juiciest scandal to hit Britain since War Minister John Profumo got caught in Christine Keeler's bedroom 10 years ago and nearly brought down another Conservative government.

Most newspapers declared that a judicial inquiry, or at the least a thorough investigation, was necessary to clear the air. Government informants said Heath already had such an investigation under way, with the counter-espionage agency MI5 checking to see if national security had been compromised.

The informants said the prime minister was not likely to agree to a judicial inquiry.

Government sources stressed that Heath did not believe Lord Lambton's association with call girls, and presumably similar conduct by any other officials, had endangered security.

Lord Lambton, a 50-year-old millionaire and the member of one of Britain's oldest aristocratic families, resigned Tuesday, pleading ill health, and went into seclusion in Scotland. But on Wednesday he issued a statement confessing his association with call girls.

Later in the day he was charged with possessing drugs — marijuana and amphetamine pills — but said in a telephone interview: "I'm no drug addict."

Lambton in his confessional statement said his conduct had caused no security risk, he hadn't been blackmailed, he hadn't discussed his government job with the call girls, and "as far as I know no politician of any party is remotely connected with these events."

... Henry to Brief Nixon on Tho Meetings

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon, who spent the night at his Camp David mountain retreat, returns to the White House today to be briefed by adviser Henry A. Kissinger on his week of talks in Paris with North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho.

White House Sets Party For the POWs

Kissinger, who returned to Washington shortly before midnight, told reporters before leaving Only Airport in Paris that "significant progress was made" during his six meetings with Tho since last Thursday. The meetings will resume in Paris in two weeks, he said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With fanfare and flourishes, President Nixon and his family are going all out today to give returned prisoners of war a homecoming party that includes the biggest dinner ever held at the White House.

The White House staff, with scores of volunteers and extra help, labored all night to get ready for the 1,214 guests who will dine on the south lawn under a orange-and-yellow striped tent bigger than the mansion itself.

Nixon spent the night at his mountaintop retreat at Camp David, Md., working on the speeches he will give to the war heroes he has waited several weeks to salute personally.

Nixon's first remarks to the repatriated POWs will come at a State Department briefing later today. While he is meeting the men, Mrs. Nixon and daughters Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox will receive the POW wives and family members in the State Department drawing rooms.

Each of the 682 military men and civilians who were captives of the North Vietnamese or Viet Cong received engraved White House invitations, and all but about 90 planned to be on hand with wives and family guests. In addition, there will be members of the House and Senate Appropriations and Armed Services committees.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and chief peace negotiator Henry A. Kissinger.

The White House says the Defense Department is footing the bill for the big dinner party for the nation's heroes. But civilian donors have jumped in to contribute everything from floral decorations to three kinds of California wines that will be cooled in two big aluminum canoes supplied by the Navy.

Nixon wanted the POW dinner to have all the elegance of a state dinner for a visiting king or foreign dignitary.

ed to tell the men about the prospects for peace in Indo-China.

"Le Duc Tho and I will meet again on June 6," Kissinger told newsmen in Paris. "We have every intention of concluding our discussions during the next series of meetings."

Nixon's session with Kissinger was expected to precede the President's scheduled meeting with some 680 former POWs, who also have been invited for an evening's entertainment at the White House. Nixon intended to tell the men about the prospects for peace in Indo-China.

"Le Duc Tho and I will meet again on June 6," Kissinger told newsmen in Paris. "We have every intention of concluding our discussions during the next series of meetings."

But Kissinger did not comment on the substance of the meetings, designed to strengthen the Vietnam cease-fire agreement. His top aide,

William H. Sullivan, meanwhile flew to Saigon to discuss the situation with South Vietnamese leaders.

Nixon motored to Camp David with a small group of his aides after a meeting with House Republican leaders late Wednesday. Asked if the Watergate scandal was discussed during the meeting, House GOP leader Gerald Ford replied: "More important soon."

things than that." He did not elaborate.

The President had met earlier in the day with both House and Senate GOP leaders, apparently in an effort to mend some fences in Congress.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told reporters that Nixon, who countered many Watergate-related accusations in a lengthy statement Tuesday, intends to speak out again soon.

Ellenville UR Contract Signed

By WADE BURKHART

ELLENVILLE now needs approval of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development office in New York City, but that is expected to be a formality.

The Ellenville Urban Renewal Agency first approved the sale of the land to the bank March 13, 1972. However, when the title search was conducted, it was found that the agency did not own all it had sold. There was a right-of-way held by an adjacent resident that the agency had failed to purchase.

The contract signed this week bank for the land was $40,000, according to Interim Urban Renewal Director Robert Peck. In area the lot is 33,759 square feet.

The sale finally took place only after long negotiations, and the lot size and configuration had to be altered. In exchange for the right-of-way, a portion of the lot was deeded to the adjacent resident.

Reducing the lot size caused further problems, eliminating some of the bank's planned parking area. As part of the final settlement, the bank is going to be allowed to buy the adjacent UR Parcel No. 6 for additional parking area. These lands, owned by Max Rosenstock, are still in the process of being acquired by the agency.

Clifford Calhoun, president of the Ellenville National Bank, said the bank hoped for a construction start "within a couple of months," though there may be problems. He said bank officials would have to make a decision on whether to go ahead with building plans without the additional parking which is still being negotiated for.

He also said the plans for the building would probably have to be altered slightly because of the change in size and shape of the main lot.

One of the aspects of the bank's bid to develop the land which was most impressive to the Ellenville Urban Renewal Agency was the expensive building the bank proposed to construct. The figure for building cost was set at $400,000 when the proposal was first made more than a year ago, representing a fine increase in the village's tax base, and Calhoun said he thought increased building costs since the proposal was made had probably driven the price of the building still higher.

Calhoun said the fate of the present bank building had not yet been decided. He said no serious negotiations with potential buyers or tenants had been conducted because the bank could not give anyone firm answers until now.

POWER

Before savings banks, every bank was a business bank. Tommy may not know that. But his parents know that savings banks were the first people banks... taking care of people's savings and paying the highest interest rates possible.

Today there are still two kinds of banks. Business banks and people banks. And savings banks are still people banks.

You know, people like Tommy and his parents appreciate that. Maybe that's why in New York State, more dollars are saved in savings banks than in all other banks combined.

Helping people. That's what savings banks are all about.

Rocky to Take Long Look at Pension Plan

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Rockefeller is expected to take a long, hard look before deciding what to do with a state employees' pay and pension plan approved by the legislature Wednesday night.

A spokesman for Rockefeller said "it's really too early to say" what action the governor might take on the measure — which, basically, merely approves most of an earlier agreement worked out between the state and the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA).

During debate on the bill, opponents charged that it failed completely to deal with a statewide uniform pension plan for public employees as recommended by a blue-ribbon panel earlier this year.

The bill also differs from one submitted by Rockefeller. Especially in the area of pension negotiations with public employees across the state.

At the same time, the CSEA, which represents 140,000 state employees and 100,000 employees of local governments across the state, also criticized the plan as failing to live up to the terms of the state-CSEA agreement.

The CSEA said the absence of

Ford Agrees to Pay $1 Million in Ransom

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. agreed to a demand from leftist guerrillas for $1 million in hospital aid as officials gathered for the inauguration of the country's first civilian president in seven years.

A communique from the Trotskyite People's Revolutionary Army warned that if its demand on Ford was not met, executives of the company could be kidnapped or killed. Two employees of a Ford plant in a Buenos Aires suburb were wounded Monday in an attempt to kidnap one of them.

An official at the company's headquarters in Dearborn, Mich., said Wednesday night that Ford would supply 154 ambulances and donations to Argentine hospitals as stipulated by the guerrillas.

Two other U.S. firms, Eastman Kodak and the First National Bank of Boston, paid a total of $2.5 million in April to ransom two executives kidnapped by leftist guerrillas. In March 1972, Fiat, the Italian automobile company, agreed to a demand for $1 million to buy school supplies for needy children after the People's Revolutionary Army kidnapped the head of its Argentine subsidiary. But the government rejected a simultaneous demand for the release of 50 imprisoned terrorists, and the guerrillas killed the Fiat executive as the police closed in on the gang's hideout.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State William P. Rogers arrived to head the U. S. delegation for the inauguration Friday of Peronist Hector J. Campora as Argentina's president.

Rogers, on an eight-nation Latin American tour, and his delegation were the 26th of the 63 official delegations to arrive. The American secretary is out-ranked at the festivities by the presidents of Chile, Cuba and Uruguay, the premier of Peru and the vice presidents of 11 countries.

Observers were particularly interested in whether there would be any contact between the U. S. cabinet member and Chile's Marxist president, Salvador Allende Gossens, whose leftist administration has been openly hostile to U. S. interests in Chile and U. S. policy in Latin America.

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Proponents of Governor Rockefeller's inspector general for education have discovered that they had more homework to do if the concept is to become a reality during this session of the legislature.

Wednesday, as the Assembly was preparing to debate the controversial bill creating the office of education performance review, Assembly Speaker Perry B. Duryea starred the measure — thus suspending debate until he removes the star.

The inspector generalship — which was renamed to make the concept more palatable — was drawing increasing fire from lawmakers opposed to the power the office would have to review education policy, which is constitutionally the function of the Board of Regents.

In another important education development, the Senate and Assembly both approved the nomination of Emlyn I. Griffith of Rome to the Board of Regents. However, the usually routine action was delayed in the Assembly by an attempt to give the nomination to another central New Yorker.

Assemblyman William S. Sears, R-Woodgate, introduced a resolution appointing Griffith to the now vacant post on the Board of Regents.

However, Sears asked that his motion be temporarily laid aside after Assemblyman Thomas J. Murphy, R - Syracuse, said he would offer an amendment to give the post to James D. Taylor Jr., a Syracuse contractor.

Griffith, a prominent central New York attorney, was the nearly unanimous choice of both the Senate and Assembly education committees but Murphy's amendment represented a power struggle between lawmakers from Onondaga County and legislators from the other five counties in the central New York regency district.

Sears said the regent from that district had come from Onondaga County since 1889 "and we feel we have a well qualified man in Mr. Griffith and he should be appointed."

Later, Murphy withdrew his objection, saying he did not want to submit either man "to a contest" and Griffith was unanimously affirmed for the Regents' post.

Senate approval, by a vote of 55-2, came with no discussion on the nomination.

Murphy said it was not a question of qualifications of either man, but the Syracuse area, with a university and three colleges, is a seat of learning and the regent should come from that area.

Although the chances of survival for the education watchdog job as it was outlined in the bill started Wednesday appeared slim, informed sources said negotiations were going on and Governor Rockefeller would eventually have some sort of education overseer.

Commissioner Daniel Klepek for Actually, the governor had hired former Deputy Health the $40,000 a year job in January, even before the legislation authorizing the new office was drafted.

Assemblywoman Constance E. Cook, R-Ithaca, chairman of the Assembly Education Committee, said she was opposed to a new office which would violate the constitutional designation of educational policy making functions to the Board of Regents.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 24, 1973

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — Representative Burt Talcott, the dapper duffer from California's salad bowl, was offended by our story that he had wangled prizes from lobbyists from a congressional golf match. "I think I have been maliciously maligned," he wailed.

He told his home town paper, the Salinas Californian, indignantly that he "did not solicit a single gift or prize or award, nor did I ask anyone else to." As for his own winnings, he said, all he could recall bringing home from the golf tourney were three Arnold Palmer golf balls and a Sears-Roebuck cap.

Talcott is a proper Republican who looks upon himself as the conscience of Congress. He is given to lecturing his colleagues on their improprieties. "The greatness of this body is inexorably eroded and degraded," he once scolded, "by violations of decorum... and practices offensive to our constituents."

But golf is Talcott's weakness and his denial of giftgathering may be his Watergate. We invite him to check his own files. He should find an August 10, 1972, memo he wrote to fellow congressmen.

"Let Us Know" As chairman of the golf tournament, he urged: "If you have constituents who would like to advertise a product by offering an appropriate 'tee prize' or award, please let the committee know soon."

He also encouraged his prize committee to bring pressure upon lobbyists to cough up suitable golfing awards. If he will look through his files carefully, he should find this enthusiastic note from Rep. Wiley Mayne, R-Iowa:

"Following our meeting on Tuesday," wrote Mayne, "I talked with Cartha 'Deke' DeLoach, who is now an executive with Pepsi Cola, owners of Wilson Sporting Goods. He very graciously offered to give us five golf bags and an unspecified number of Wilson golf balls. . . . At the bottom of the letter, Mayne scrawled: 'P.S. Perhaps you may wish to head off other sources of golf bags.'"

Talcott's correspondence also includes an exchange with Rep. Bill Dickinson, R-Ala., who came up with some gifts. "Dear Bill," wrote the grateful Talcott, "This will acknowledge receipt today from your office of eleven windbreakers from the Russell Company. . . . Please convey our thanks to the manufacturer."

HOWARTH'S MEMO

If Talcott's memory still needs prodding, he may find a memo in his files from independent telephone lobbyist Tom Howarth reporting on gift solicitations. The lobbyist happily informed Talcott that prizes had been promised by Aerojet-General, the American Cattleman's Association and North American Rockwell, to name a few.

Nor was the solon from Salinas altogether frank about his share of the plunder. After we confronted him with the facts, he conceded that he had brought home somewhat more than three golf balls and a Sears-Roebuck cap. His takings also include an expensive lounge chair, fancy shoes, tee cleaners, a flashlight, candy bars and assorted other goodies.

Oh yes, those fancy windbreakers, which the Russell Company contributed, were never awarded as prizes. Instead, they were brought quietly back to his office where they were distributed to his staff members.

Nixon-like, Talcott accepted the responsibility but blamed his staff. The staff had passed out the windbreakers, he said, without his authority.

Talcott's statements challenging our accuracy, meanwhile, might be called "inoperative."

Footnote: Talcott claimed that we listened to only one disgruntled employee. This is also untrue. Talcott's office turnover is legendary and even his present staff is riven with discord.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

Railroad Welfare: The railroads have hit on a new way to sock the public for their past mismanagement. The Railroad Retirement Fund is dangerously low, so the railroads and rail unions are trying to slip a bill through Congress to replenish the fund. The bill would require the Interstate Commerce Commission and state regulatory bodies to go along with rate increases requested by the railroads to beef up the fund. The payments, of course, would come directly out of passenger fares and indirectly out of housewives' budgets. For the increased costs of rail-hauled goods would be added to the price the housewives pay. In other words, the consumer would be paying for the railroads' past incompetence in their money handling.

Beer Lift: Once again, the industrious noncons of the Washington Air National Guard are preparing for their famous and profitable "beer lift." Last year, for their summer duty in Georgia, they smuggled in hundreds of cases of beer under black tarpaulins on Air Force transport planes. The brew was sold illegally to thirsty young airmen at huge mark-ups out of a barracks equipped with an ice-filled garbage can. The sales violate both local liquor laws and Air Force regulations.

Binding the Voucher Plan

WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY, JR.

Perhaps the most exciting educational experiment of the century is tentatively scheduled to take place in New Hampshire this fall. Top level officials within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare are doing their best, however, to abort it. Mr. Thomas K. Glennan, Director of HEW's National Institute of Education, is appalled a) at the prospect of the voucher plan for schools just to begin with; and b) extra-appalled that the plans to go ahead with an experiment in New Hampshire have not been sufficiently encased in bureaucratic-concrete.

The following is a specimen of the kind of language that issues from Mr. Glennan, the extinction of which, I mean the language not Mr. Glennan, is presumably one of the objectives of American educational reform: "A more careful job of negotiating for a feasibility study should be done," he has written. "It should be done with input from the NIE and from the OEO people who have been involved in past voucher activities. No attempt should be made to mount an operational program next fall but rather the fall of 1974 should be the target date."

The OEO is the Office of Economic Opportunity, whose bright young men have been pushing for the New Hampshire plan which is modeled after the prescriptions of Professor Milton Friedman. That model is not to be confused with Christopher Jencks' which is said to be in operation at Alum Rock Union School District in California, but actually isn't; wherein hangs a tale.

Milton Friedman's plan is quite simple. Let us suppose that your state is spending $1,000 per year per student. The parents, under the plan, would receive as many vouchers as they had children. Each voucher would be turned over, along with a child, at any school public or private that commended itself to the parents. The schools would send in their vouchers to the state treasury, which would remit $1,000 per voucher received. The purpose of the program is to encourage individual initiative in education, to eliminate the inequity of double taxation for those who patronize private schools, and to encourage, for those who cannot now afford it, the kind of variety of choice available only to the wealthy.

Mr. Christopher Jencks, a resourceful socialist, meanwhile came up with his voucher plan which is so heavy with qualifications as to be, in the end, not very interesting. The plan is described in an OEO memo as forbidding "schools to discriminate by income or merit. . . . Parents could not supplement vouchers from their own incomes and every school with more applicants than places would have to conduct a lottery. Also, minority candidates would have to be accepted in the same proportions in which they applied, and 'compensatory vouchers' would create an incentive for accepting low-income candidates."

The differences between the Friedman and Jencks proposals," OEO Assistant Director Daniel Joy sums up neatly, "reflect the philosophical primacy which Friedman gives to liberty and Jencks to equality."

Now over at Alum Rock, under the supervision of Mr. Glennan when he was at OEO, they took the Jencks plan and then added so many other qualifications to it that no one quite understands why it is considered to be a testing ground for the voucher principle. But Mr. Glennan, who undertakes to speak also for Mr. Frank Carlucci, the Deputy Director of HEW, is obviously opposed to the Friedman plan, and enthusiastic about the Alum Rock plan, which whatever it is, is not a voucher plan.

The experiment, which would involve only a few thousand students in New Hampshire at a cost of only five million dollars, has the enthusiastic backing of Governor Meldrim Thomson, Jr. and of New Hampshire's assembly. HEW wants more of what they call in Washington "feasibility and implementation studies." The OEO people point out that F & I was done on Alum Rock ad nauseam and that really, "it oughtn't to be necessary to reinvent the wheel." The coming collision between the doers and the naysayers will presumably take place on the desk of HEW Secretary, Mr. Casper Weinberger, who when he was in California showed himself hospitable to experimentation. It might go on to Mr. Nixon's desk, perhaps with a covering note reminding him of his pledges in 1968 to do what might be done to spare the private schools. Meanwhile, as one meditates the constipating effect of monopoly government in failing to free up monopoly schooling, one hopes that a reformed school system would in turn reform an invalid government system.

Cancer Causation Study

Which of the innumerable chemicals in the human environment are among the causes of human cancer is the question to be answered by a scale bio-assay project running for two years with 30,000 mice and rats as guinea pigs. The study will be directed by the National Cancer Institute in a building taken over from the Army biological warfare facility in Frederick, Maryland, just outside of Washington.

During the two years of their natural life span, most of the mice and rats will face only one hazard—cancer. The animals will be given moderate doses of chemicals in their food, while they are observed to determine whether cancer is developed more frequently than in animals that are not given the chemicals.

The building was prepared especially for the project. After its start, anyone entering the laboratories will have to take a shower before entering and leaving. The air in the rooms where the animals are housed will be filtered and replaced completely every four minutes. Temperature and humidity will be carefully controlled.

In the first phase, 60 chemicals will be tested for their cancer-producing potential, explained Dr. Borge Ulland, manager of the bio-assay project. Experts estimate that as many as three-quarters of all human cancers are caused by environmental factors. There are many thousands of chemicals, natural and artificial, in the environment. One of the real problems in cancer causation research is to choose the specific chemicals most urgently in need of testing in a bio-assay. The researchers have high hopes.

"Will everyone kindly get a hold of himself? This is a directors' meeting, not an 'encounter group'."

Henry Kissinger in the Soup

By MARTIN F. NOLAN
WASHINGTON — Since the waves are engulfing nearly every major American institution except John Wayne and organized baseball, many people in Washington had fervently hoped that at least one symbol of savviness and rectitude would emerge with dry clothes and clean hands.

But there in the flood swims Henry Kissinger, awash in that sea of suspicion, secrecy and stupidity. His resignation, before the summer is out, would surprise no one who spends time at the White House.

When the question arose of whether Kissinger instigated or approved wiretaps on his own staff members and reporters, Ronald Ziegler didn't throw Kissinger a life preserver.

"He met from time to time with the former director of the FBI to talk about security matters," the President's press secretary said in bloodless deadpan.

Was Kissinger's office coordinating with the office in Los Angeles?

The press secretary said he was "doubtful." Ziegler's doubts are worth even less than his affirmations.

So Kissinger himself must face up to the problem, but how? How does he admit or deny that he sought to overhear the conversations of his own staff or of reporters?

Perhaps the only way will be through a civil lawsuit by one of the victims. Kissinger's deposition in that case could describe — and damage — some fundamental aspects of this country's foreign policy.

It's all very well to make speeches against aggression and in favor of harmony, but against a backdrop of bugging and burglary, it might not be too impressive.

Wiretapping is burglary. Imagine that you come home one night and find crowded behind the sofa a chap in a porkpie hat, white socks and a clip-on bowtie.

"What are you doing?"

"Nothing, really. I'm just here to eavesdrop on your conversations. I'm from the FBI so you don't have anything to worry about. Or do you have something to hide?"

"That has nothing to do with it. Do you have a court order?" you might inquire of your visitor.

"Well, no, but Henry Kissinger says it's OK."

That doesn't wash. In the most clear and present danger to national security, a wiretap may be essential. But being "disloyal to Henry," as one White House staff member described the motivation, is not sufficient reason.

Kissinger himself has been a self-controlled sieve, leaking information when it suits his purposes. He might feel aggrieved somehow if someone ordered a tap on his telephone.

Many reporters, diplomats and politicians had sincerely hoped Kissinger could escape the doubt now dripping off the escutcheons of the CIA, the FBI, the Secret Service, the Marine Corps and the Presidency.

But a mania for "security" that infected the White House did not stop at his door. If he talked to J. Edgar Hoover "from time to time," that was too much time, which he should have been spending on foreign policy.

In his last press briefing, Kissinger was joking about his visit to the dacha of Leonid Brezhnev outside Moscow, and a hunting expedition on the grounds.

"I advised him about how to conduct the hunt," said Kissinger. And why? asked reporters.

He said with the famous, self-confident smile, "Ignorance of a subject has never kept a Harvard professor from offering theories."

'Waterbugs' on Tables As Dem Raise $1 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Watergate on their minds and "waterbugs" on their tables, Democrats raised $1 million for 1974 congressional races at a Wednesday night banquet.

The event marked the first time the Democrats outstripped the Republicans at such a fundraiser. The GOP affair held two weeks ago brought in only $750,000—less than half the amount the Republicans hoped to raise.

And the evening was capped by a visit from President Nixon—or rather comedian David Frye who imitated Nixon and kept the audience of more than 2,000 laughing for about 20 minutes.

Mrs. Eugene Wyman, chairman of the $500-a-plate affair, Wednesday night, said receipts had passed the $1-million mark for the first time in history.

Virtually every speaker and entertainer made references to the Watergate scandal enveloping Nixon's Republican administration, and party officials said Watergate had definitely helped the record ticket sale.

Each guest received a gold plastic "waterbug" attached to a pencil with an inscription: "Harry Truman said it, Dick—The bug stops here." This was a parody on the late president's view of his office that "The bug stops here."

Although the evening had been billed as a "fun night" with as few speeches as possible, each of the party leaders presented to the crowd had a few words to say.

In the main speech, Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., outgoing chairman of the Senate Democratic campaign committee, said Nixon has endangered the nation's entire political system through the Watergate affair.

This means an even more important role for Democrats because, he said, "In view of the disintegration of the closed and distrustful Nixon administration and by our loyalty to democratic self-government, we become the custodians of our political system."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate confirmation of Elliot L. Richardson as attorney general clears the way for newly appointed Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox to begin his investigation.

Richardson's selection of Cox, a Harvard law professor and Democrat, was one of the key factors leading to Wednesday's Senate approval of Richardson's nomination by an 82-3 vote.

The Senate acted after less than an hour's debate on the unanimous recommendation of its Judiciary Committee that Richardson succeed Richard G. Kleindienst.

Richardson's approval came as the Senate's Watergate investigation committee continued hearings into last year's break-in and bugging of Democratic national headquarters.

Testimony Wednesday attacked the veracity of James W. McCord Jr., convicted Watergate conspirator who told the senators earlier in the week of White House pressure to keep silent.

McCord's testimony was corroborated in part by former White House aide John J. Caulfield, but Caulfield and a former lawyer for McCord, Gerald Alch, disputed McCord's insistence that he spoke out only in the interest of justice. But Caulfield said he believed that he was carrying a message from President Nixon when he delivered a clemency offer to McCord.

Caulfield has admitted taking to McCord offers of executive clemency if he would remain silent about what he knew of White House involvement in the Watergate conspiracy. Alch, McCord has testified, suggested that McCord blame the wiretapping on the CIA, for which he once worked.

Alch has denied the allegation, and he and Caulfield depicted McCord as a man who is trying desperately to stay out of jail. McCord still is to be sentenced.

Richardson had told the Judiciary Committee that Cox will have full authority in his probe not only of the bugging of Democratic headquarters but of all allegations of political espionage arising out of the 1972 presidential election.

Cox will hire his own staff under guidelines hammered out by Richardson and the committee during hearings that spanned two weeks.

Although Richardson said he will have all the freedom he needs and pledged to follow the probe wherever it may lead, Under authority delegated to him by Richardson, he will conduct grand jury proceedings, initiate prosecutions, decide whether to seek immunity for witnesses, have full access to documentary evidence from any source, and handle relations with congressional investigating committees.

Richardson was Nixon's secretary of defense when nominated as attorney general and before that had been secretary Hughes, D-Iowa.

of health, education and welfare.

Statements of the senators who voted against his confirmation Wednesday said Nixon should have gone outside the administration to find a new head of the Justice Department. The three were Joe Biden Jr., D-Del.; Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, and Harold E.

Under authority delegated to him by Richardson, he will conduct grand jury proceedings, initiate prosecutions, decide whether to seek immunity for witnesses, have full access to documentary evidence from any source, and handle relations with congressional investigating committees.

Standing by Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his hour of Watergate crisis, most House Republicans are standing by President Nixon, helping him stretch his streak of show-down veto victories over the Democrat-dominated Congress.

Nixon won the votes of 167 Republicans Wednesday and scored a 40-vote victory as the House upheld his veto of a bill that would have required Senate approval of his two chief budget officers.

Eighteen Republicans lined up with 218 Democrats against Nixon but the 236-178 vote favoring the override was not enough to beat him. Thus, for the third time in the year's three veto battles between Nixon and Congress, his opponents failed to muster the two-thirds majority necessary to override. As a result, a 62-22 Senate vote for overriding has no effect.

This legislation would have abolished the jobs of Director Roy Ash and Deputy Director Frederic Malek of Nixon's Office of Management and Budget, and then re-establish the posts with the new step of requiring Senate confirmation of presidential nominees. Nixon termed it unconstitutional.

Before the recent disclosures on Watergate, Nixon had won the year's previous veto tests—by four votes as the Senate sustained his rejection of a $2.6-billion authorization bill for rehabilitating the handicapped, and by 51 votes as the House upheld his veto of a $120-million rural water sewer grant bill.

Ex-Policeman In Joking Mood

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Anthony Ulasewicz, the former New York City policeman whose testimony provoked laughter from the senators investigating the Watergate scandal, continued in a joking mood as he arrived Wednesday night at Albany County Airport.

"I'm no spy," said the 55-year-old residents of the Town of Day in Saratoga County, adding, "I regret nothing except I can't find the men's room."

Ulasewicz said he did not expect any criminal charges to be filed against him and reiterated that he would "return if necessary" to testify before the committee.

Asked if he doled out any "hush money" to buy the silence of convicted Watergate burglar James W. McCord Jr., he said, "I have no comment on that."

Dutchess Girl Killed

AMENIA as a fractured skull, pending an autopsy.

A one-car auto accident on Leedsville Road in the Dutchess County Town of Amenia Wednesday evening resulted in the death of the driver of the car, Denise A. Bierce, 16, of Depot Hill Road, Amenia.

The Dutchess County Sheriff's Department reported that Miss Bierce, driving alone, skidded on a curve on wet pavement and slammed into a boulder at the side of the road. The vehicle flipped on its side, deputies said, and the girl was trapped underneath the wreckage.

The Amenia Fire Department was called to the scene to assist in removing the auto from atop the young woman. She was taken to Sharon (Conn.) Hospital, where she was pronounced dead on arrival. A tentative cause of death has been listed

Two persons reportedly sustained injuries in a mishap on Route 299 at the New Paltz Thruway interchange Wednesday afternoon. Fatum's ambulance conveyed a woman and her daughter to St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie. The Hospital reported that Jean Caruso of South Street, Highland, was in fair condition today. The daughter, Rosemarie, was treated and released. Details were unavailable from Highland State Police.

Details were also unavailable concerning a mishap early today on Ricks Road in Woodstock which resulted in the hospitalization of Marian Engblom, 21, whose address was given by Woodstock Constables as Kingston. The driver of the auto was identified as Robert S. Lee of Shotwell Road, Woodstock.

Local Death Record, Memoriams

Trade Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States recorded its first trade surplus in 18 months during April. Secretary of Commerce Frederick Dent said today. Dent noted that April was the third straight month that exports reached new record levels, while imports declined for the second month. But Dent said he could not yet predict that the nation is in a permanent trade surplus position.

He released the figures one day earlier than usual at a special news conference. It was unusual for the country's trade figures to be announced in this way. Usually they are announced in a Commerce Department press release.

Exports exceeded imports during April by $196.3 million. Much of the favorable shift in the trade balance resulted from a decline in imports from Canada.

Memorial Driving

'Weekend May be Safe'

ALBANY State Police say statistics show it would be a mistake for anyone to avoid travel during the Memorial Day weekend for fear of being involved in a serious accident.

"The fact is," said State Police Superintendent William E. Kirwan, "the forthcoming weekend may be as safe for travel as any time of the year."

An analysis of figures compiled on fatal accidents over the Memorial Day weekend last year indicated a fatality rate only slightly higher than the average annual death rate for normal weekend periods, according to Kirwan.

Kirwan noted that the high traffic volume on Memorial Day weekend has a tendency to keep speed down, and pointed out that most drivers pay more attention to safe driving on holiday weekends because of the publicity customarily given to accident figures during these weekends.

For all weekends last year the average number of fatal accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday was 30.4. During the Memorial weekend in 1972, fatal accidents totaled 36, claiming 48 lives.

Kirwan urged motorists planning trips to check the condition of their car and to observe traffic laws and remain alert while on the road. "Accidents don't just occur but are caused by a variety of improper actions which the prudent driver will avoid," he said, adding, "and just in case you will have a decided edge the other fellow involves you against being seriously hurt, if in an accident, remember that you are using your seat belt."

Mailbox Week Underway

KINGSTON "Mailbox Improvement Week" is now being observed in Kingston, according to Postmaster Oscar V. Newkirk.

The traditional observance which contributes to the appearance of local streets and roads will continue through Saturday, May 26. Postmaster Newkirk stresses that "Mailbox Improvement Week" has long served the starting signal for special community efforts to repair, repave and make other improvements in the security and appearance of rural and suburban curbside-type boxes in the Kingston area.

"Mailbox Improvement Week" has taken on added significance in recent years with the expansion of curbside suburban box delivery service by motorized city delivery carriers. Approximately 28 million people receive their mail in curbside boxes served by city carriers, an estimated increase of eight per cent since 1970.

Rural service has undergone considerable change since it began in 1896 with many people using tin cans nailed to trees as mailboxes. Almost 43 million individuals are served today by about 31,000 rural routes.

People who would like to use of approved designs for optional a mailbox not of the standard use. He is also authorized to variety can check with Postmaster Newkirk, who has when they comply with postal available lists of manufacturers regulations.

Station Owners Charging 99.9 Cents Per Gallon

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Most businessmen are selling both motorists reportedly don't believe it when they first pull in to tank up at Grant Wheeler's and John Allison's Arco station. But it's there in black and white: 99.9 cents a gallon for gas.

Wheeler said Wednesday the Atlantic-Richfield Co. has tripled his rent in the six weeks since he and Allison opened their N.Y. 9 station north of here. They were forced, Wheeler said, to hike the price of their gas to meet the cost of expenses and overhead.

Until Monday, the pair was selling regular gas at 39.9 cents a gallon and premium at 45.9 cents. Now the Boght Corners businessmen are selling both for nearly a dollar.

Wheeler said that they have had about 15 customers since then, but not all stayed to get the gas.

"A dollar!" one customer reportedly exclaimed. "Just here or everywhere else?"

"So, far, just here," Wheeler answered.

Referring to the alleged rent hike, another Arco dealer interviewed by the Albany Times-Union said, "They're doing it to everybody. They claim it's the gas shortage, but that doesn't make any sense."

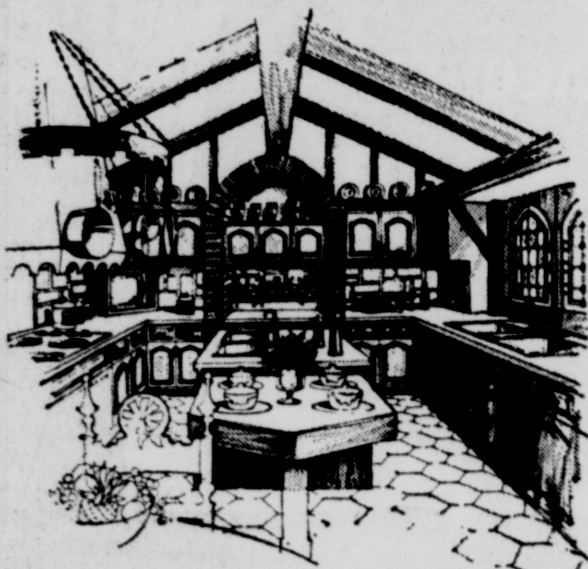

Atlantic-Richfield officials were not available for comment Wednesday night.

MIRON AWARD — A Certificate of Merit has been awarded by the Ulster Businessmen's Association, Inc., to the Miron Home Center on Route 9W for its "important contribution to the visual environment of the Ulster Shop City area." The firm was cited for the construction and landscaping of its new facility, which was opened in April, 1972. Attending pre-

Parking Ordinance Is Passed

ELLENVILLE in the village, and Village Attorney Albert I. Lonstein said Wednesday he was looking into ways to make sure the village can give valid parking tickets under the ordinance.

The ordinance, drafted for the board by Lonstein, is couched in broad language, and applies to the two lots in the village's downtown business section if they can be considered to be "operated, owned, leased, or used" by the village.

Whether they can be considered to be "operated, owned, leased, or used" by the village is the question, since both lots are presently owned by the Ellenville Urban Renewal Agency.

Howard Weiss, village coordinator, noting that the village paved the lots, and maintains them, thought the ordinance applied to the lots in question.

Lonstein said he was looking into the whole question further, and may recommend some sort of lease arrangements with Urban Renewal for the two lots if it seems warranted.

SBA Counseling Session June 1

KINGSTON according to Len Cane, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce of Ulster County. Edward Frese, a representative of the SBA, will be on hand to discuss the possibility of loans to area people for both established and new businesses.

He will also offer general information concerning small business and attempt to answer any specific questions.

Appointments to see Frese must be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office. Fifteen-minute segments will be scheduled through the day.

The program, arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., will not be in effect during July, August or September. It should resume on Friday, October 5.

Maryland Representative Is Found Shot to Death

EASTON, Md. (AP) — U.S. Rep. William O. Mills was found shot to death at his home today, apparently a suicide.

The Maryland Republican's death came one day after the Washington Post reported he had received a $25,000 contribution from secret funds of President Nixon's 1972 campaign finance committee. The contributions were not reported to the Maryland Board of Election in an apparent violation of state law.

When asked if Mills had shot himself, aide Jack Shaum replied, "Yes, from all indications."

The body of the 48-year-old congressman was found in a barn at his Mulberry Hill Farm in Talbot County near Washington.

The Easton Memorial Hospital said he had a gunshot wound in the left lower chest.

Dave Thackeray, a hospital spokesman, said there were powder burns on Mills' shirt indicating he had been shot at close range.

Mills was first elected to Congress in a special election in 1971. He replaced Rogers C. B. Morton who was named secretary of the Interior.

APPEAL WILL BE HEARD — The nation's highest court of military law has agreed to hear the appeal of 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr. from his murder conviction in the My Lai Massacre. The Court of Military Appeals, comprised of three civilian judges, took the maximum time allowed to decide whether to hear the appeal of the 29-year-old officer convicted of murdering at least 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai in 1968. THE LATEST THING — Ferroxcube Plant Engineer John Ostrander stands beside $80,000 wastewater treatment facility designed to handle up to 10,000 gallons of process water a day. The system, which has been approved by the Pure Waters Division of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, represents the latest in water treatment technology.

New Treatment Facility Is Unveiled

SAUGERTIES Ferroxcube Corporation has announced the start of a new $80,000 wastewater treatment facility capable of processing 10,000 gallons of process water per day.

The system was designed and built by the Ferroxcube plant engineering group in cooperation with the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, and has been approved by the agency's Division of Pure Waters.

Construction of the new 5,000 square-foot building which houses the new treatment facility began in September, 1972, following more than two years of exhaustive studies by the Army Corps of Engineers and at independent testing laboratory.

The new treatment facility incorporates a multi-stage process in which the wastewater passes through settling tanks in which the major portion of the solids is removed. The water then passes through a vacuum filtration system, and finally through a high pressure filter press which removes remaining solids.

The water emerging from the new treatment system contains less than 1 part per million of suspended solids.

According to Ferroxcube Plant Engineer John Ostrander, who was responsible for the project, the new treatment facility represents the latest in wastewater treatment technology.

"We at Ferroxcube are committed to local environmental preservation," Ostrander said, "and we will continue to upgrade our waste treatment facilities as necessary to meet this commitment in the future."

Ferroxcube Makes Key Appointments

Two key managerial appointments have been announced at Ferroxcube Corporation in Saugerties.

Vernon Norton has been named manager of manufacturing engineering.

Ernest W. Jones has been appointed manager of materials testing and analysis.

Morton joined the company in 1967 and more recently held the position of manager of materials testing and analysis.

A native of Middletown, O., Morton holds an Associate Degree in Physics from the University of Cincinnati and a B.A. degree in Mathematics from Marist College, Poughkeepsie. He is the author of numerous technical articles that have appeared in many trade publications.

Before joining Ferroxcube, Morton held technical positions with NL Industries, Inc. and NCR Company, both of Ohio.

Morton lives with his wife and two daughters in Kingston.

Jones joined the company in 1968 and served as section manager in charge of plated wire development.

A native of Philadelphia, Jones holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Virginia

Union University, Richmond, Va. He has been granted three patents in the field of electrochemistry and has done graduate work at Temple University, Philadelphia.

Before joining Ferroxcube, Jones held engineering positions with Univac Corp. and Rohm & Haas Company, both of Philadelphia.

Active in furthering YMCA programs, Jones serves on the Board of Directors of the Kingston, N.Y. YMCA.

Jones lives with his wife, Marjorie, and two sons in Maverick Park, Woodstock.

Offers Tips on Accent Light

CHICAGO, ILL. To create a home that is truly individual and expressive of the "life style" of your family — use the dramatics and subtleties of "accent lighting."

"Accent lighting" is staccato lighting — designed to emphasize what is beautiful and distinctive within the home. It is not simply utilitarian.

All rooms must have a certain level of both general and task lighting for vision, but it is the accent lighting that transforms a room from an indifferent one to memorable, explains the American Home Lighting Institute (AHLI).

Accent lighting is designed to highlight unusual features of the room, either decorative or architectural. This could include:

A handsome fireplace setting, washed with light.

A well-laden table glowing under a low-hung chandelier.

Plants or sculpture, casting flickering shadows through back-lighting or hidden spotlights.

Showrooms recognized as AHLI "Light for Living Centers" provide qualified specialists to help consumers design accent lighting, and then select the fixtures to best accomplish the desired effects.

Local area "Light for Living Center" is Kingston City Electric Supply Co., Inc. 21 Grand Street.

Pepsi-Cola Starts 75th Anniversary

PURCHASE for dramatic expansion of product distribution. Since it was first developed, Pepsi-Cola has played a unique role in American life through its advertising and promotion. It introduced the world's first product radio jingle in 1939: "Pepsi-Cola Hits the Spot. That's a lot..."

And it was the first major company to recognize the importance of the "youth market." Back in the late 1950's it introduced the concept: "Now it's Pepsi..." For Those Who Think Young. Later, it created a national catchphrase: "The Pepsi Generation." In the late 1960's, the company was able to identify and define a uniquely upbeat and positive attitude in young Americans with its award-winning commercial: "You've Got a Lot to Live... Pepsi's Got a Lot to Give."

The youngest chief executive of Pepsi-Cola has been Donald M. Kendall. He became president of the soft drink company in 1963 when he was 42 years old. He added new products, such as Diet Pepsi-Cola and Mountain Dew to broaden the product line. In 1965, he engineered the merger that brought Pepsi-Cola Company together with Frito-Lay to form PepsiCo, Inc. He is also credited with negotiating the trade agreement that allows Pepsi-Cola to become the first American consumer product to be manufactured and marketed in the Soviet Union. Mr. Kendall is now chairman of the board and chief executive officer of PepsiCo, Inc.

Today, Victor A. Bonomo is president of Pepsi-Cola Company, the cornerstone of annual sales in 1972 in such fields as snack foods (Frito-Lay), wines (Monsieur Henri), sporting goods (Wilson) and trucking (North American Van Lines).

Houck Given CDP Award

LAKE KATRINE
Francis J. Houck of 22 Corwin Place, Lake Katrine, has received the Certificate in Data Processing awarded by the Certification Council of the Data Processing Management Association.

Houck, a staff programmer with IBM Corporation, Kingston plant, was one of 852 successful applicants of 2,722 who took the exam in test centers at colleges and universities throughout the country and in Canada. The local exam was given at Union College in Schenectady.

Houck thus becomes one of the 13,992 who have been awarded the certificate since the first exam was given in 1962.

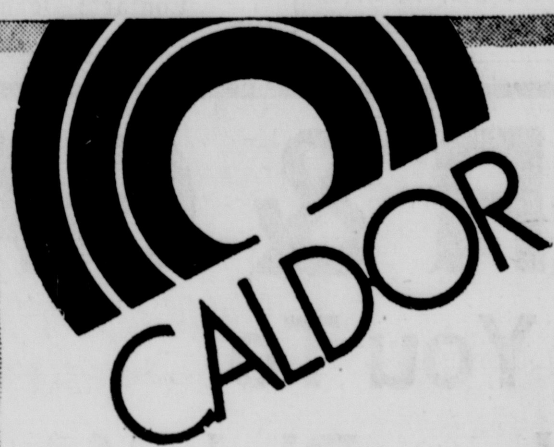

The CDP exam establishes a method for recognizing a corps of individuals having knowledge considered important to data processing management information. Exam applicants must have five years of EDP experience.

Simulaids Get U.S. Contract

WOODSTOCK
Simulaids, Inc. of Woodstock has recently been awarded a contract from the U.S. Medical Supply Agency for the manufacture of inflatable compression bandage splints for the United States' armed forces.

According to Kevin Sweeney, president of the Woodstock firm, the splints are used as compression bandages as well as for splinting injured limbs. They have been found to be extremely effective in reducing pain and, consequently shock, because they provide comfortable but secure pressure to an injury.

Simulaids also manufactures a variety of Plast-Aid splints which are used by ambulance and rescue squads, fire and police departments, hospitals and sports organizations including many ski patrols. One of the other products made by Simulaids is an emergency childbirth training manikin which is being used in many Medical Emergency Technician's courses throughout the United States.

Bike Tour Sunday

SAUGERTIES

The Saugerties Environmental Conservation Commission will hold its second Bicycle Tour of the Saugerties area Sunday beginning at 1 p.m.

The purpose of the bicycle tour, according to commission chairman Mary Finger, is twofold: exercise and enjoyment, and to map and designate bicycle trails throughout the township.

All interested persons are invited to attend. It has not yet been determined, however, where the bicycle tour will begin. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Dave Menzies in Saugerties.

The conservation commission also announced the results of last weekend's recycling drive. Boy Scout Post 36 collected 14.5 tons of newspapers; six tons of glass and 300 pounds of aluminum and tin cans were collected by Girl Scout Cadet Troop 117 and Boy Scout Troop 31.

Residents of the Saugerties area were urged to continue saving all recyclable materials for the next drive. A date has not yet been announced.

Murder Charge, Case Is 16 Years Old

MANNSVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — A 51-year-old suburban Water-town man was charged with murder Wednesday in the death of his brother 16 years ago. The brother's skeletal remains were uncovered earlier Wednesday, Jefferson County sheriff's deputies said.

Charged with murder was Fred Darrow of Glen Park. Authorities said his brother, Guy W. Darrow, was killed in May 1957 and buried in a shallow grave on a farm near this southern Jefferson County community.

Jefferson County Under-sheriff John J. Griffith said a farmer, Wilbur Brown, reported finding a skull protruding from the ground near a fence and further investigation disclosed other bones.

Claim Grave Holds Body of 1897 Astronaut

AURORA, Tex. (UPI) — A grave in a small north Texas cemetery contains the body of an 1897 astronaut who "was not an inhabitant of this world," according to the International UFO Bureau.

The group, which investigates unidentified flying objects, has already initiated legal proceedings to exhume the body, and will go to court if necessary to open the grave, director Hayden Hewes said Wednesday.

"We hope by exhuming the body we may obtain some of the same type of unusual metal from either his clothing or bones that was unearthed at the well site when we checked it with metal detectors," he said.

Hewes said pieces of metal found near the grave and crash site are now being analyzed by scientists.

Bridge Work Completed

NYACK, N.Y. (AP) — Repairs to the Tappan Zee Bridge on the New York State Thruway have been completed and all construction equipment removed, the Thruway Authority announced Wednesday.

The repair work to the south-bound bridge lanes had caused huge traffic tieups, especially during commuting hours, and brought numerous complaints to state and local political officials.

As a result the state allocated additional funds to work around the clock until the job was completed. A second phase of the job, repaving the bridge, will not begin until the fall, the authority said.

New Paltz Art Exhibit

NEW PALTZ — An exhibition of work by four candidates for the master of fine arts degree will be presented in the Collegiate Art Gallery at the State University College at New Paltz until Friday, May 25, the gallery's director, William Bartsch, announced today.

Each candidate will show a selection of his or her recent work in a different area of specialization, he said. They are Allen Littlefield, ceramics; C. James Meyer, goldsmithing and silversmithing; Jane Wachman, photography; and James Wizer, painting.

The exhibit may be seen during the gallery's regular hours—Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., except Thursday, when closing time is 9 p.m.

This will be the final exhibition of the academic year, Bartsch said. The gallery will be closed until June 25, when it will reopen with a survey exhibition of student work selected from all undergraduate studio classes.

MRS. DENNIS L. JOHNSON
(Loretta Mae Cole)

(Lakeside Studio)

Loretta Mae Cole Weds Dennis Johnson

Loretta Mae Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Cole Sr. of 2 Grand Street, Highland, has exchanged vows with Dennis L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Johnson of 50 Grand Street, Highland.

The Rev. Paul Godburn officiated at the May ceremony in First United Methodist Church, in Highland.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a silk organza gown styled with a high neckline accented with lace and a ruffled bibbed bodice. Her full-length veil was attached to a sculptured open headpiece of lace and she carried a bouquet of miniature chrysanthemums.

Elizabeth Cole of Highland was maid of honor for her sister in a blue crepe gown fashioned with lace motifs. She wore a floor-length blue veil and carried a colonial bouquet of daisies and carnations.

Attendants were Lynn Dee

Weeks of Highland, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Carmela Nelson of Marlboro; and Mrs. Donna Deilly of Pine Bush. They wore yellow crepe gowns with floor-length veils and carried daisy bouquets.

Laurie Anne Cole, sister of the bride, served as flower girl in a blue crepe gown. She carried a miniature nosegay.

Robert Dunham of Highland was best man. Ushers were Alfred Cole, brother of the bride; Paul Aragon; Keith Williams, all of Highland. Lawrence Dunham of West Park was ringbearer.

A reception was given at Chef Jo Mar in New Paltz.

The bride is employed in the office of William J. O'Hare, attorney, in Poughkeepsie.

Her husband works for Newburgh Truck and Trailer Sales in Middlehope.

After a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside at Plutarch Road in Highland.

Thurin-Eisele Nuptials

Michele Helen Thurin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Thurin of 16 Prospect Street, Kingston, exchanged nuptial vows with Pfc. Albert E. Eisele Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Eisele Sr. of 96 Greenkill Avenue, Kingston, Saturday, May 19, at St. Mary's Church in Kingston.

The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebrated the nuptial Mass. Robert Moore, organist, provided traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her mother's gown of slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace over satin. The gown was styled with lace panels and a full skirt paneled with lace and terminating in a cathedral train. A Camelot headpiece held her cathedral length veil of silk illusion which was also paneled with lace. She carried her mother's prayer book covered with white roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. Margaret Amell of 349 Clifton Avenue, Kingston, was matron of honor for her sister in a green gingham pinafore-styled gown with long sleeves. She carried a colonial nosegay of green and white daisies and baby's breath.

Attendants were Mrs. Dale Drury, Springfield, Mass.; Mrs. Deborah Vigliotti, Glens Falls; Mrs. Diane Hammersley, Kingston; Mrs. Donna Demeter, Kingston, all sisters of the bridegroom; Miss Catherine Thurin, Kingston, sister of the bride. Their gowns were identical in styling to that of the honor attendant in yellow, pink, peach, blue and lavender, respectively. They carried colonial nosegays of daisies and baby's breath. Ribbons to match their gowns served as their headpieces.

Flower girls were Veronica Thurin, sister of the bride; and Dolores Eisele, sister of the bridegroom, both of Kingston. They wore gowns of green gingham with white nylon organza pinafores and carried baskets of green and white daisies accented with baby's breath.

Vincent Vigliotti of Glens Falls, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were James Drury, Springfield, Mass.; Robert Eisele, John Hammersley, Drew Demeter, Raymond Amell, all of Kingston. James Thurin, brother of the bride, Kingston, served as ringbearer.

A reception was given at Moose Lodge hall, 82 Prince Street, Kingston.

The bride, a 1972 graduate of Kingston High School, was employed as bookkeeper at Nugents, Kingston Plaza.

Her husband, also a 1972 alumnus of KHS, is serving in the U.S. Marine Corps, stationed at Camp Lejeune, N.C. where he is a part of the military police force.

The couple will reside at Pylant Park, Lot 8, 24th Road, Jacksonville, N.C.

BPW Scholarship Is Offered

The Scholarship Committee of Ulster County Business and Professional Women's Club has announced it will make a scholarship available to a woman who needs to further her education or training in order to enter a career field or to improve her chances for professional advancement.

Women in this category are asked to contact the committee chairman, Edith Hungerford of Port Ewen by Monday, June 4.

Those applying for the scholarship must be United States citizens, need financial assistance to upgrade skills or to complete education for employment or advancement; furnish information about a specific course of study, the costs involved and the qualifications of the applicant to take such a course; and have a definite plan to use the desired training to progress in or to enter a career field.

Applications must include, if possible, a transcript of the most recent school record.

Almost any kind of education or training could qualify a person already in the labor force or desiring to return to it. These would include assistance with her college program, secretarial school, computer program ming course, and others. The award may be used for part-time or full-time study.

The scholarship will be awarded for a period of study not to exceed 12 months. If satisfactory progress is made, the applicant may apply for another scholarship to continue her studies.

Payment will be made only after the applicant has been admitted to the school to which she has applied. Tuition payments will be made directly to the school and the remainder of the scholarship will be paid to the grantee.

Members of the BPW are not eligible for the scholarship award.

A thoughtful investment.

Perhaps you've been looking at various ways of putting money away for a youngster's future. Have you considered a custodial savings account, with its tax advantages?

A custodial account provides a better way than most investments of making money grow. Unlike the stock market, for example, its growth depends solely on you. And, unlike insurance, it earns an excellent rate of interest—at Heritage, the highest interest rate permitted for banks by law. And this interest is tax-free for you as guardian.

These accounts are available at any time for the benefit of the young people through their early years. Then, at age 21, the accounts automatically become theirs, to provide for their future and stand as a reminder of your wisdom and foresight.

Makes sense, doesn't it? Come in to Heritage and discuss how a custodial account can help you achieve your aims. It's a wise and thoughtful investment.

Grandma Can Help With Money

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My mother, who is in her middle seventies, has made her home with us for nearly 20 years, since Dad died. She has her own room, and we built a private bathroom just for her.

Grandma enjoys "helping" around the house. She can't hear very well so she gets the phone messages all wrong. She can't see very well so when she mops or makes a bed, I do it over when she's not looking.

Grandma hasn't been in a grocery store in years so she has no idea how high groceries are. In fact, she hasn't spent any of her own money in years, which is what I'm getting at.

She draws around $200 a month, which she puts in the bank. The only checks she ever writes are for Christmas and birthday presents, and those are very modest, considering what Grandma is worth.

She keeps telling us she's leaving everything to us — but we need some help now. Is there a way to ask Grandma to kick in with some loot without sounding grabby?

NEEDS HELP
DEAR NEEDS: Try this: "Grandma the cost of living has gone up skyhigh these last 10 years, and it's still climbing. We could use a little money every month to help cut the mustard. Do you think you could spare it?" If she asks how much you had in mind, tell her.

DEAR ABBY: The other morning while doing the dishes, my wedding ring came off. The water was running, and I didn't realize the ring was gone until it had already gone down the drain.

I called a plumber right away. He said the ring was already in the sewer and it couldn't be retrieved.

Abby, that was my husband's grandmother's wedding ring, and if he knew I was doing the dishes in it he would kill me. I bandaged up my hand and told him I had burned it. I can't go on wearing this bandage forever. Please tell me what to do.

BUTTERFINGERS

DEAR BUTTERFINGERS: Remove the bandage and tell your husband the truth. It's an unfortunate loss, but if that's the worst thing that ever happens to either one of you, you'll be lucky.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have reached a stalemate. We have been arguing about something unrelated to us, but which has become a sore point. For about three years we have observed a neighbor carrying on. (I'll call her "Mrs. X.")

We have seen Mrs. X and her children pack up the car during the summer months, pull out of the driveway, and minutes later a young woman pull into the driveway and stay with the husband for hours.

When Mrs. X attended night classes, we have seen this "friend" leave by the back door, creeping across the lawn just seconds before Mrs. X's car came down the road. My wife has also seen the husband and this woman dining out in local eating spots.

The problem: My wife wants to tell Mrs. X about these goings on. Not to tip her off, but because she dislikes her. She says Mrs. X puts on airs and is always talking about how "happily married" she is, and how she has "trained her husband right," etc.

These neighbors will be moving in another month, and I have begged my wife to leave it alone.

I am turning to you because my wife reads your column daily, respects your opinion, and has agreed to abide by your opinion.

WEARY HUSBAND

DEAR WEARY: I say: "Leave it alone."

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FOUND A HUGE BOX OF PILLS IN SON'S CLOSET": Ask your son what kind of pills they are, where he got them, and why? Also if he's taking them. If you get no answer, have the pills analyzed. Your doctor, pharmacist, or someone in your local drug rehabilitation center (or police station) can help you.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

(Hear Dear Abby Mon. thru Sat. at 9:07 a.m. WKNY-1490)

Hints From Heloise

DRAWING A BEAD ON DIRT
Dear Heloise:

Yes, beaded curtains get dirty too! So try this method of brightening them.

Take a bucket of your favorite soap suds — soak one or two strands of beads ahead while scrubbing one strand with a good-sized but soft scrub brush.

Double the beads in your hand so that you are scrubbing three or four rows at once.

To avoid tangles, handle each strand separately. Rinse thoroughly. Drain in the sink. Then hang to dry.

I guarantee you that you will enjoy absolutely new beauty!

MRS. MALCOM HOOVER

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

Just had to share a young bride's goof (mine) with you and your readers.

My mother-in-law was coming for dinner. What to serve? What to serve? So I finally decided on my specialty — sauerkraut and spareribs.

I had only a few minutes to shop after work so I rushed to the grocery store and, in my frenzy, I really goofed.

I discovered when I got home and started to prepare my dinner, that I picked up a can of sauerkraut juice instead of regular sauerkraut. You spell it panic!

MRS. F. H.

Dear Heloise:

Here is big news if you have venetian blinds:

When a tape wears through, mend it with strapping tape. Extend the tape a couple of inches on each side of the tear. Naturally, you put on the underside of the blind tape and no one will ever be the wiser.

I find this tape to be quite as claimed, "like a ribbon of steel."

It's great throughout the home. In fact, I wouldn't be without it.

PEG ROBINSON

Dear Heloise:

I was recently hospitalized and was on a special restricted diet. In the hospital, they furnished each patient with a menu (special if required) and the patient could take his or her choice for the day's meals.

These menu plans would be returned on the food tray. I saved all of them instead of throwing them away or sending them back to the kitchen on the tray.

Now that I am home and still on a restricted diet, I have many menu suggestions to help me plan my special meals.

They have really been a great help to me. This same idea could be done with any type of menu.

Have a good day and a nice forever!

MRS. MARVIN WALLINGTON

Dear Heloise:

Backyard barbecues are really popular.

I have discovered over the years numerous things to make these cookouts easier and more enjoyable.

One idea that I use at every cookout is an old discarded belt with holes punched all around it at regular intervals.

When we are going to cookout I take my "barbecue belt" and buckle it around a nearby tree.

All I have to do is add pegboard hooks and I have a perfect holder for all the little necessities that might be needed, like pot holders, etc.

It certainly has proved to be a handy little gadget for our family.

CELESTE BOWAN

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

The funniest thing happened the other day at the drive-in window at the bank.

I went through to cash a check and the teller said, "Well, we will be seeing you." It just struck me as being so funny because he didn't know how true that statement was! I'm there only too often.

REBECCA FAUST

DANIEL HOOPER

The Stockade Concerts Group will present Daniel Hooper, pianist, and Dale Deschler, organist in a concert Sunday at 4 p.m. The program will be given in the auditorium of Old Dutch Church, Main Street entrance.

This performance is the "May Surprise" for sponsors of the Stockade Concerts Group who are invited as guests. Letters of invitation to the sponsors will be collected at the door. There will be a nominal donation for the general public.

It has also been announced a reception for the artists will be held outdoors, weather permitting. All proceeds are used for the benefit of the church organ fund.

Dale Deschler, a native of Bethlehem, Pa., started his formal music training at the age of eight on the clarinet and at the piano at age ten in the Bethlehem Conservatory of Music. He is a graduate of Westminster Choir College, Princeton, N.J., having studied with Joan Hubl Lippincott, nationally acclaimed concert artist.

Prior to coming to Kingston, Deschler was organist-choir director of the Zwigli Reformed Church, Souderton, Pa., and guest organist-choir director at Lutheran Church of the Holy Trinity in New York City. He is now Director of Music at Old Dutch Church in Kingston and dean of the Central Hudson Valley Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. For the concert, Deschler will play works by contemporary composers: Toccata for Flutes by Pietro Yon; Suite for Organ by Gerald Near;

Two Choral Preludes by Ernst Peping and Te Deum by Jean Langlais.

Daniel Hooper began his musical studies at age three and received his degree from Juilliard with a major in piano in 1969. At Juilliard he also studied with Josef Raieff and received three honorary scholarships and his Sacred Music Master Degree from Union Theological Seminary in 1971. He also received the Seth Bingham Award in Composition for his opera "Abraham and Isaac" which has been performed in New York City and San Antonio.

Hooper is now organist-choirmaster for Church of Messiah, Rhinebeck and music director for the Mid Hudson Opera Theatre, Poughkeepsie. For the concert Sunday he will play Period Classical Pieces for Piano, Sonata in D Major by Haydn, Papillons Opus 2 by Schumann, Etude for Left hand by Scriabin and Variation Series Opus 54 by Mendelssohn.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
(c) 1973, Emily Post Institute, Inc.

To the lady who sent me the fiftieth wedding anniversary invitation on which "No gold gifts, please" was written:

This was in very poor taste. While it is perfectly correct to write "No gifts, please" which relieves the guests of any obligation, it is very presumptuous to write "No gold gifts" which clearly imposes an obligation (or at least a strong hint) by indicating that other gifts are expected.

DEAR MRS. POST:

I recently went to a wedding reception of over two hundred guests. There was no alcohol served. The couple and their attendants belong to a faith which does not permit drinking. Was this fair to the guests who came from all over to attend the wedding?

I realize this is the bride's day, but should the guests suffer? Couldn't the bride and groom do without the liquor, but have drinks offered to the guests?

SHEILA

Dear Sheila:

If it is contrary to a family's religious convictions, I do not believe that they should feel it necessary to serve liquor at any function — including a wedding.

Wedding guests attend to honor the bride and groom and to enjoy visiting with relatives and friends, and this should be the emphasis rather than concentrating on having a "gay" time. It should not be necessary to have liquor available to make it possible for people to enjoy themselves.

Final plans were discussed for a linen basket to be given away at a later date. Chairman is Mickey Ellsworth, assisted by Ingrid Deyo and Sara Wangstand. The meeting took place at the Lodge meeting room at 82 Prince Street, Kingston.

Distaff Digest

Officers Elected

Election of officers was held at a recent meeting of the Dutchess County Council of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars at American Legion, Arlington Post 1302.

Elected to office were Emma Smith, Auxiliary 5913, president; Carol Ashenden, Auxiliary 5913, senior vice president; Doris Hill, Auxiliary 6916, junior vice president; Addie Goebel, Auxiliary 1378, treasurer; J. Cerino, Auxiliary 5913, chaplain; Kay Ham, Auxiliary 7765, conductress; Esther Kern, Auxiliary 170, guard. Trustees are Doris Beverland, Auxiliary 170, three years; Cloetta Lewis, Auxiliary 7765, two years; and Hazel Burnett, Auxiliary 170, one year.

A joint installation of officers was held with Anne Coons, state President of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary, as installing officer for the council.

Penny Social

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Hurley Fire Department, District One, will be collecting donations, house to house, during the last week in May and the first week in June for a penny social planned for September. Women from the auxiliary will have identification.

Social Slated

Ulster County Women's Democratic Club has scheduled its annual penny social for Sunday, June 3, at 2 p.m. at Knights of Columbus Hall, 389 Broadway in Kingston.

Chairman is Peggy Johnson.

Beef Dinner

Clinton Avenue Church School staff is sponsoring a roast beef dinner Thursday, June 14 at the church. Servings will be from 5:30 to 7 p.m. A nursery will be provided.

The dinner is being prepared by Burt and Luella Giles. Tickets may be purchased from any Sunday School teacher, Sunday School students or by contacting Paula Blush of Kingston.

Proceeds will benefit the church school.

Mystic Court

Mystic Court No. 62, Order of the Amaranth, will meet Monday, June 11 at Masonic Temple.

Mothers were honored by the Court at the May 14 meeting. A degree was rendered by a delegation of men from Colonial Chapter, Order of DeMolay, and flowering plants were given by Elsie Kent in memory of her mother, Georgianna Brown.

The annual ceremony of draping the altar in memory of departed members was also observed.

Among the notables in attendance were Dorothy Gale, junior past grand royal matron, along with present and past grand officers.

A social hour took place after the business meeting.

Slim Side With Potatoes

When you're dieting, do you spend all your time dreaming of the good food you wish you were eating? Does the thought of eating a potato make your mouth water? Then go right ahead and have one! Because, believe it or not, a medium-size potato is only about 90 calories, less than a pear of the same size! Unfortunately, the potato has acquired an undeserved reputation for being "fattening." What really does the damage are the calorie-laden toppings and cooking methods that add calories. But the flavor of the potato is so good that they can be prepared in many delicious but low-calorie ways. And the potato itself is so good for you.

Did you know that, whether you're dieting or not, your body needs more carbohydrates than it does protein? And the potato is not "just another starch." It gives good nutritional return for every gram of carbohydrate it contains. A medium-size potato (3 per pound) provides one-third the vitamin C recommended daily plus significant helpings of vitamins B-1 and niacin, iron and potassium. Potatoes are virtually fat-free, too, and even contain small amounts of protein that is of top quality and readily usable by the body. In other words, a 90-calorie potato packs an impressive nutritional wallop!

You can put the nutrition to work and cut down on your calorie intake when you combine potatoes with meat and other vegetables to make a main dish. And such combinations are important in a good reducing diet. When you cut down on the amount of food you're eating, you run the risk of cutting out some of the nutrients that you need every day to stay healthy and active. So it's essential to choose foods that will contribute those nutrients in proper balance. Small helpings of lean meat, supplemented by the potato, provide good protein. Yellow and orange vegetables, such as carrots and corn, and green vegetables, such as spinach, broccoli, and asparagus supply large amounts of vitamin A. Other vegetables such as green beans, peas and tomatoes contribute B vitamins. All these vegetables also contribute to the iron and trace minerals found in the potato. So, a combination of meat, potatoes and these other vegetables offers a generous serving of the vitamins and minerals that are so especially important to the dieter.

"No-Stew Stew" shows you how to put those good foods together in a delicious way. Canned roast beef and gravy turns hours of preparation into minutes to make this easy one-dish meal. A little dry white wine adds subtle flavor. Good hearty potatoes and your choice of garden-fresh vegetables in season make this stew especially good — and good for you. It's a wonderful easy way to enjoy those potatoes you love while helping your diet and your health.

No-Stew Stew

One cup dry white wine
One cup (10½ ounces) condensed beef broth
Two soup cans water
Two medium potatoes, unpeeled, quartered
One quart mixed vegetables of your choice (green beans, squash, corn, eggplant, peas, onion, tomatoes, carrots)
One can (12 ounces) roast beef with gravy
One package beef stew seasoning mix
One-half cup chopped parsley

In large kettle or Dutch oven, heat wine, broth and water to boiling. Add potatoes, cover and simmer 10 minutes. Add remaining vegetables, cut into large chunks. Cover and simmer 15 to 20 minutes more or until vegetables are just tender. Stir in beef and gravy. In a measuring cup, stir seasoning mix with about one-quarter cup cold water until well blended. Gradually stir into hot stew; cook, stirring, until mixture thickens slightly. (If more thickening is desired, add a little cornstarch or flour mixed with cold water.) Just before serving stir in parsley. Makes 4 servings.

305 calories per serving. This calorie count is based on one quart of vegetables including one cup green beans, one cup diced summer squash, one ear of corn, cut in one inch chunks, eight cherry tomatoes and two medium carrots, sliced.

GOOD NEWS FOR DIETERS — Hearty meat 'n potato stew offers good flavor and nutrition for surprisingly few calories.

DON'T GO TO WORK FRIDAY

You'll Save More Money Than You Could Make

Friday, May 25, Will Be the Best Day of the Year to Shop Oren's!

There's never a BAD day to shop OREN'S but Friday will be a humdinger! Because on this day we will reduce, and we really mean reduce . . . Living Room Suites, Sofas, Chairs, Bedding and Dinettes. There will be whopping reductions on Bedroom Suites, Desks, Recliners, Tables, Lamps, Bookcases and Carpeting.

DON'T MISS THE INCREDIBLE SAVINGS THAT ARE YOURS DURING THIS TREMENDOUS EVENT

Here's an IMPORTANT message for you! Read every word of it. If you need new furniture, bedding, carpet or anything else for your home at really great SAVINGS, now is the time to buy! and OREN'S is the place to buy them—at the lowest prices you'll find anywhere around. It's gonna be just ONE DAY, tomorrow, Friday, May 25th—from 9 in the morning until 9 that evening. Last year we had a crowd waiting outside when we unlocked our door at 9:00 sharp—so come early! The finest brands of nationally advertised home furnishings will be dramatically reduced during this SALE-OF-SALES. Although we've room on this page to mention only a handful of the spectacular buys you will find when you shop OREN FURNITURE'S 6 floors—one of the largest furniture stores in the Hudson Valley—you can get some idea of the values you will find during this unusual money saving clearance. For openers, let's pick a really good one to set the pace. We have two combination droplid bookcase/bar units that sold for $79.95 each. We will unload them for just $15 each. If that didn't hit you, we have a famous Virtue of California smart looking modern dinette in black, white, and chrome that retails for $298. We couldn't sell it last time for $199—will somebody please adopt this orphan for $149? Or try this — a 5 piece bronzedtone dinette set with a 1 1/2" Formica top that some idiot used a 2" screw to fasten the leg on. We fixed the top as best we could and the chairs are fine. The regular price was $69.50—$35 takes it away. Or try this—a 3 piece group of solid cherry Colonial tables. Our buyer insists these should go for $380 for the set but we shamed him into asking only $175. And that's when we discovered he was concealing a king size solid cherry bookcase headboard worth $350. Both buyer and headboard have reached a new low: headboard, $175—and the buyer may be summarily dismissed. In the living room department, we've got the most terrific bargains on sofas, chairs, and love seats that we've EVER offered. You've NEVER SEEN such a SELECTION . . . (spell that OVERSTOCK) . . . and MORE on the way. Here are just a few examples of the OUTSTANDING BUYS waiting for you: a 2 piece Nelson gold traditional Living Room—it was a factory closeout, and we wish the factory would. We would ask $380 for both pieces if we could—but we'll let it go now for $149. Ridiculous? Yes, we know it, but it's just been here too long. We hope by now that you realize a whole lot of these specials are WELL BELOW COST — when we want to move some stuff, we GO ALL OUT. If you don't think so, come on by and look. Attention lovers! We have a cane arm love seat that is upholstered in a fantastic gold velvet. You add champagne and caviar or cola and carry-out chicken for an evening to remember. The love seat was $229, but you can buy the refreshments from savings you'll make on the new low price of $149. As another example we have a two piece modern corner sectional that last year sold for $210—the first person with $99 clenched in their fist takes it. How about 2 red velvet and cane chairs that are worth $250 for the two. Nothing wrong with them except not everybody likes orange wood with red velvet. It kills us to sell the pair for $99. Now, if you've read this far . . . READ ON! THE BEST IS YET TO COME! Spanish lamps with red velvet shades should sell for $25 each, how about $25 for the pair? Unbelievable? Well, come and see for yourself and SAVE as NEVER BEFORE! So much for the living room, but don't get the idea that the few items listed are all the bargains on sale . . . only a SMALL FRACTION of the bargains are listed here—come see them all. Any Spanish relatives in the family? Treat them to a Spanish chest and matching headboard. Offer us 1/2 of $150 and we will take your $75 and run! While we are in the bedroom how about a solid oak chest and 2 twin headboards and a night table—all worth $350, now only $175. Or a walnut single dresser base reduced from $109.50 to $55. Man, if you have read this far, you really deserve a couple of bargains—walnut or colonial record cabinets, sold as is, should be marked $40—out they go at $9.88 each. We have a collection of odd dining room chairs some in pairs, some singles—Colonial, Italian, Spanish and French. Values to $70. Take them away for $18 each. A maple 40" bookcase hutch top to sit on a desk or dresser—Right now it's sitting on the floor. It's worth $120 but we'll be happy to see it disappear for $30. Another bargain—a $99 maple buffet for only $45. Summer is coming, if the rain ever stops. Here are a couple of hot deals: a Structo Bar-B-Q Kettle Grill worth $44—closeout $19.88. Or a 6 piece Rattan porch set (sofa, 2 chairs, 3 tables—Vinyl cushions) last year sold for $350. Take it away quickly for $129. Yes, that price is correct—Insane, but Correct. Be patient now, we're really getting down to the NITTY GRITTY. A gold floral Simmons Hide-A-Bed reduced to only $269. A Bassett walnut Formica dining room table chopped down from $140 to $70, a smaller version from $90 to $45. Or how about a walnut Dining Room table with 4 matching chairs. It should sell for $350 but at $175 I might just buy it myself. I'm starting to get tired of writing this ad which just happens to remind me of some spectacular bedding buys. For example, just 3 soiled $45 twin size mattresses just $18 each or 3 $55 full size soiled mattresses and 1 box spring just $28 each. How about a $69.95 deluxe quilted mattress with a tear in the seam (even my wife could fix it) just $34. In addition, we have a big stack of closeout bedding in our bedding department at sensational prices. There will NEVER be a BETTER TIME to buy bedding. Then there are tweed or vinyl sofa beds worth $110. That will break our heart to sell at $68. We have a pair of maple high poster beds worth $150 for the pair. Both will go to the first bargain hunter who checks in with $75. I can't keep up this pace much longer—only enough ink and energy to tell you about a Formica dinette set worth $215 that should just disappear for $99. Or a Thomasville droplid secretary desk, chair and twin headboard in brushed white and blue. This entire group worth $481 but we will let it go (slight damage and all) for $99! Yes, that's $99, not 199, 299, or 399. Or another winner from Thomasville—a white plant stand or pedestal for a statue or you could even use it to display a picture of your mother-in-law. It should sell for $85 but $25 sounds more like it. I'm BUSHED. I see a $90 brown tweed floor sample recliner where I can rest. I may just stay there until somebody offers $45 for it. Candidate Cites Master Plan

SAUGERTIES Town of Saugerties residents will soon have the opportunity of reviewing the proposed master plan for the comprehensive development of the village, according to S. Morrow Decker, Democratic candidate for the Ulster County Legislature from the Town of Saugerties, and chairman of the township's planning board.

Decker made the announcement at the May meeting of the Town of Saugerties Democratic Club.

"The purpose of this master plan is to make recommendations for the future growth of the area that will benefit all our citizens and prevent any special group from subverting the best interests of the municipality," Decker said.

Decker pointed out that before the proposed Zoning Law is acted upon there will be public hearings and informational meetings held.

"I strongly urge all citizens of the township to participate in these meetings, which I am sure the Zoning Commission will be opening to the public in the very near future," Decker said.

"Over 60 per cent of the towns in Ulster County already have zoning ordinances, and I am sure that we in Saugerties . . . do not want to be considered delinquent in this most important aspect of modern municipal life," he concluded.

Nirenberg Levels Charge at County PR Unit

ELLENVILLE Charging that the Ulster County Public Relations and Resort Information Office "has served mainly to promote the political futures and ambitions" of County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago, Legislator Alex J. Nirenberg (D-Dist. 10) has filed a resolution seeking to limit the operations of the public relations office.

"The unlawful use of Ulster County tax dollars to promote the political campaigns of Republican Legislature Chairman Peter Savago and his chosen Republican legislators is going too far," said Nirenberg. He added, "Anyone not in Savago's favor, of course, gets left out or butchered."

Nirenberg, a Wawarsing Democrat, charged that the county's public relations office "operates by distributing photos of Savago almost once per week to all the newspapers in Ulster County at taxpayers' expense." He continued, "But worse than anything else, it provides our newspapers and radio stations with 'news' stories about the Ulster County Legislature that are often distortions, half-truths and outright falsehoods, all favoring Savago and his followers and improper use of public taxes for politicians' public relations is causing an additional amount of damage since it is hurting the operation of the county."

"I believe this type of operation befits Moscow's 'Pravda', not Ulster County, and I certainly cannot see any reason why our taxpayers should, in addition to being lied to, have to pay the bill," Nirenberg continued.

The Public Relations and Resort Information Office was established by resolution in 1971, Nirenberg contended that the county's "PR" officer (Albert J. Cawein) "is hired by and answerable to only Savago, who holds the right to fire him at will."

Nirenberg continued, "This immoral, unwarranted and we are not going to 'sell' Ulster campaigning demands thorough it. It is certainly not difficult to understand why the media is insulted to a point as does the strange ex-Republican majority last year where it loses confidence in our penditures that show up in the unanimously voted down a county government and its 'publicity' vouchers. We Democratic resolution to release Democrats and all others in to the media lists of county to be interested in protecting against expenditures," Nirenberg use our tax dollars for political the misuse of our taxes demand concluded.

Phoenicia Hosts White Water Derby

PHOENICIA the national list and eventual participation in the next Olympic.

(Editor's Note: A couple of weeks ago, the Associated Press reported, about 12,000 spectators flocked to the Adirondack hamlet of North Creek for the 16th annual White Water Derby. That gives you an idea of the mounting interest in white water derby racing in the United States, particularly the northeast. The movement gained undoubted impetus in the last Olympics when white water racing was conducted over a special man-made obstacle course.)

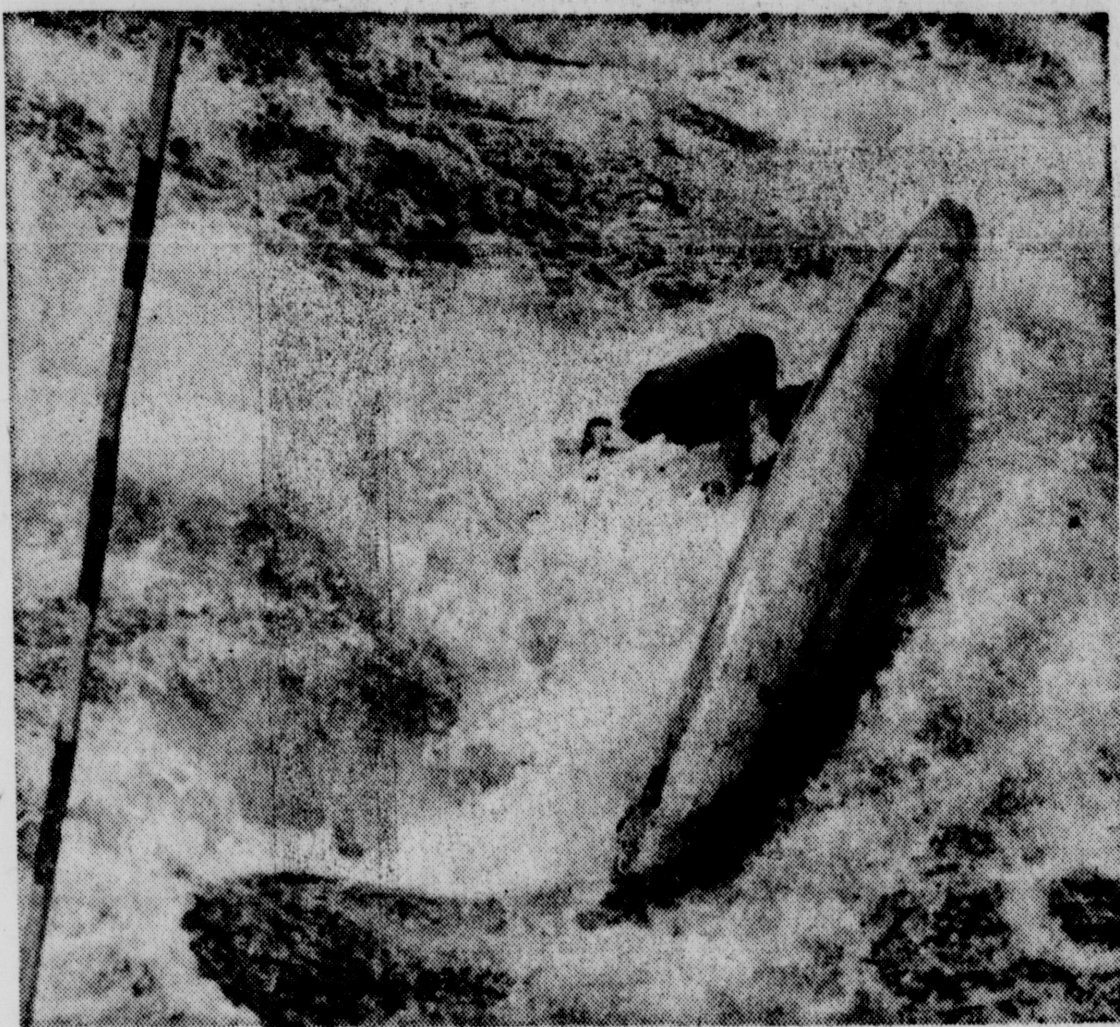

For the tenth consecutive year, the Rotary Club of Phoenicia will co-sponsor the Esopus White Water Slalom with the Kayak and Canoe Club of New York, Inc. on the Railroad Rapids in the heart of the village on Saturday and Sunday, June 2-3.

Having been designated as an Olympic event for the first time last year, it is expected that as the Northeast's representative event, hundreds of enthusiasts will vie for places on

Dodge put in his 13th appearance fellow competitor pried him loose and Dodge glided his one-man canoe to an adjusted time of course, in the mature — 40 years and over-class.

With 70 years of canoeing behind him, Dodge, of Mechanicsville, Maryland, took it easy but tread through the rocks with relative ease until the climactic, tough Spruce Mountain Rapids. There he was stymied by a boulder until a white water derbies in general.

"It's no pressure pot and the competitive feature is subordinated to a wholesome atmosphere which also allows a communion with nature." The competition acquired its nickname "white water derby" because of the waves of foam created by the Kayaks and canoes as they plunge downstream.

Liberty Edges Oteora

Marlboro's Rally Nips Coleman, 4-3

KINGSTON and John Prizzia followed with Tom Siebald. It was enough for a single that brought home the Steve Foster who picked up his third win and the Indians' fifth with 13 strikeouts and a three-hitter.

George Woerthman and Charlie Mazzola each drove in an Oteora run in the third inning, but OCS again had a case of batting anemia and lost its fifth game in six starts.

Mario Berry doubled to drive in Phil Fanning with an insurance run for the victors in the sixth inning.

Taddeo went the whole route and struck out eight while walking five and giving up five hits. Coughlin fired a three-hitter in defeat with nine strikeouts and five walks. The win was Marlboro's sixth against one loss, while Coleman dropped to 2-4.

Ivan Richards clouted a two-run triple in the first inning to highlight a three-run Liberty rally at the expense of loser.

Pinch hitter Joe Lofaro was the beneficiary of another Coleman error to put Dukes at first and second. Consecutive boo boo number three scored one run and put John Bunt at first.

Coughlin, and Coleman, were in trouble, and a sacrifice fly by George Casey didn't help. Neither did the Statesmen's fourth error of the inning that allowed Charlie Jones to get aboard. Coughlin walked Jim Pagano to load them up again.

Phil Timbrouck walked and Joel Sickler singled in the home first and both scored after two outs on Vince Schell's single to give Coleman an early lead. Winning pitcher Frank Taddeo then gifted his hosts with another in the sixth frame by walking three more Statesmen after surrendering a leadoff single to Chris Bentley.

Coleman Tops Ellies

Liberty Golfers Upset Rondout

LIBERTY It's still not over in the fight for the UCAL golf crown. Rondout Valley High School found that out once again Wednesday on Grossinger's Lake Course when this year's Section Nine medalist, Red Yaun, negotiated a 43 over the wet layout to lead Liberty to an upset 186-191 victory over the defending league champions.

New Paltz was equally elated at Locust Tree when a Hugel foursome cracked the 200 mark for the first time this year and took home a resounding 186-202 win over Pine Bush. In the third league match of the day, Coleman took another step closer to clinching the title with its 11th win, a 167-183 triumph over Ellenville.

In the DCSL, the favorites succeeded. Undefeated Kingston made it seven straight by downing Roosevelt, 165-172, and Saugerties topped Rhinebeck for the second time this year, 188-190.

For once Yaun didn't take medalist honors. Rondout's Mike Priest did with a 42, but he was the only Gander anywhere near his game. Bob Gutkin struggled home in 49 and Jim and Bob Davenport each soared to a 50.

Liberty got a 47 from Jon Beck and 48's from Bob Kramer and Mitch Etess in improving its record to 8-3. The Indians, with a home match left against 11-1 Coleman, appear to be the only obstacle left to impede the Statesmen express.

It was only New Paltz's second win of the year, but Locust Tree doesn't yield many 186's to any team. Kurt Grosshans led the youngsters with 43, and Gary Siegel shot 46. Jeff Mackey fired 47 and Earl Harp had 50.

For Pine Bush it was Jim Winter and Chris Bennett with 47 each. Darryl Cileberto with 50, and Tom Collins with 58.

Coleman routinely turned back the outgunned Ellies with Tony Maneen and Mike Dulin showing the way with a pair of 40's. A. J. Maneen fought a wooden touch on the greens but still carded 41 despite four three-putts. Steve Dulin brought up the rear at 46.

Ellenville's Matt Friedman was in contention at 42. Jim Bennett was next for the losers at 46 followed by Bruce Tennenbaum at 47 and Jim Murray at 48.

Kingston rolled through Roosevelt, although the rough at Hudson River State Hospital didn't make the going easy. Mark Brown stayed away from most of the high stuff and shot a medalist 40 to lead the victors. Randy and Tom Spiesman each fired a 41, and Bob Thomas carded 43 to lock it up.

The President's, now 3-5 on the year, got 41's from Mark Miller and Pete Peluso and 45's from Jeff Gross and Kevin Conrad.

Sawyer's Second

Saugerties' win over Rhinebeck was the second of year, and those are all wins the Sawyers have in the DCSL North. It was close at Sawyerkill, with the winners' balance paying off.

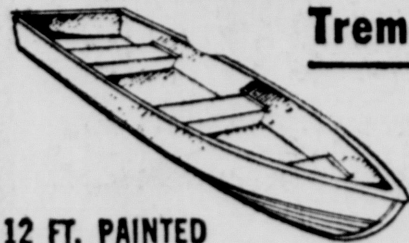

Craig Fischer fired a steady 47 to lead the win. Paul Jasienowski carded 48, while Wayne Jasienowski and Dave Heineck each brought home a 49.

Medalist honors went to Rhinebeck's Paul Kane who shot 43. Mark Siebald had 45, Bob Marvin had 47 and Steve Dahlem finished in 55 to complete the total.

In other league matches of interest, Poughkeepsie stayed close in second place, upping its record to 6-1 with a 162-164 decision over Lourdes. Arlington dropped out of first in the Southern Division, losing a 223-224 battle to Ketcham in which five scores were needed to break a tie.

Yanks Edge Tigers, 6-5

It Was the Night Billy Stayed In

DETROIT (AP)—It was one of those "Billy Martin may never come out-of-the-trainer's room" games.

They happen now and then after a particularly tough loss. Wednesday night was one of them.

Manager Martin's Detroit Tigers, who whittled away New York leads all night, finally succumbed on Matty Alou's ninth-inning double which gave the Yankees a 6-5 victory and share of first place in the American League East with Detroit.

Afterwards Martin took shelter in the recesses of the clubhouse trainer's room, which is off-limits to newsmen. After all the Tigers had showered, dressed and gone home, Martin was still in the trainer's room—the sanctuary to which he goes in what appears to be an effort to avoid reporters.

The game ended at 10:41 p.m. EDT. Martin was still in the trainer's room at 11:41 when the last reporter left.

Usually he comes into the press room afterwards but when he didn't show up by 20 minutes after midnight it was clear he wouldn't arrive at all.

Meanwhile, Manager Ralph Houk of the Yankees, who has been known to get a little upset now and then himself, was all smiles and full of praise for left-handed hitter Alou—a .310 lifetime batter for whom the Tigers tried to trade last summer with St. Louis.

"He can handle the bat better than anybody I've seen in baseball," Houk said unequivocally.

"He's got bat control and hits to all fields. It's amazing to me."

"You play him to pull and he hits to left. Play him to hit to left and he'll hit it down the rightfield line. I've never seen anyone like him in my career. He's a little like Luke Appling, although Appling was more of a hit-and-run man....It's something he learned himself. You can't teach it."

With the score tied 5-5, Gene Michael opened the Yankee ninth with a single off Tiger starter Joe Coleman. Horace Clarke bunted him along before Roy White flied out. Then Martin went out to talk to Coleman.

So with two outs and two strikes Alou lashed a double down the first base line to score Michael. Reliever Sparky Lyle, 1-3, gained the triumph by getting Bill Freehan to take a called third strike with runners on first and second in the bottom of the inning.

New York seeks a sweep of the three-game series tonight when it sends George Medich, 3-1, to the mound against Mickey Lolich, 2-5. Both teams have identical 20-20 records and lead third-place Milwaukee by one game.

"I just tried to hit the ball," said Alou, explaining away any thought he deliberately delivered the game-winning hit down the line. "It was lucky."

"I was just thinking about hitting the ball. I forgot it was the ninth inning, two outs and two strikes."

In other American League action, the Minnesota Twins beat the Kansas City Royals, 8-6; Chicago dumped California 5-3; Boston Beat Milwaukee, 5-3; Oakland defeated Texas, 8-6; and Cleveland at Baltimore was rained out.

Harmon Killebrew has been wielding a hot bat the last few days to raise an anemic batting average to a level of respectability.

The "Killer," who owns the fourth highest home-run total in baseball history (543), rapped out two singles and a double against Kansas City Wednesday night, giving him six hits in the last 10 at bats, and with three RBIs paced the Minnesota Twins to an 8-6 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

The triumph was the Twins' third straight, ninth in their last 12 games and enabled them to remain only 3½ games behind the first-place Chicago White Sox. The Royals, who collected 16 hits but left 14 runners on base, had a chance to tie the game in the seventh but Cookie Rojas was thrown out at home trying to score from first on Amos Otis' two-out single.

Kansas City scored five runs in the third on singles by Fred Patek, Rojas and Otis, a walk to John Mayberry and Lou Piniella's first bases-loaded home run of his major league career.

Minnesota cut the margin to 5-3 in the fourth on Hisle's 435-foot homer, his sixth, and a walk to Rod Carew and singles by Tony Oliva and Killebrew.

Carlos May's three-run homer capped a four-run seventh inning that gave Chicago and reliever Terry Forster the victory over the Angels and Bill Singer. May homered after consecutive singles by Ken Henderson, Dick Allen and Bill Melton produced a run.

Rico Petrocelli's two-run single highlighted a four-run fourth inning and Carl Yastrzemski collected three singles to give the Red Sox their victory over Milwaukee.

Oakland's Bill North singled home Rich McKinney from third in the sixth inning following a costly throwing error by first baseman Bill Sudakis as the A's beat Texas, 6-6. With the game tied, 6-6, entering the sixth, leadoff batter McKinney singled and Dick Green laid down a sacrifice bunt which Sudakis fielded but threw past the second baseman covering first and second. North then singled to send home McKinney and Bert Campaneris' sacrifice scored Green.

TWO ON ONE — Bill Freehan (11), Tigers first baseman, is an easy out at second on a quick throw from Yankees shortstop Gene Michael to second baseman Horace Clarke (20) in game at Detroit Wednesday night. (UPI)

Sparky 'Hooked' Jack In the Nick of Time

By VITO STELLINO

Sparky Anderson almost stayed too long with Jack Billingham this time.

Billingham, the victim of a controversial hook by Anderson in the seventh game of last year's World Series, was allowed to stay in and give up three consecutive extra base hits in the ninth inning Wednesday night until Anderson just got him out before he blew the game.

Billingham and the Cincinnati Reds were just one out away from a 3-1 victory over the Houston Astros when Jesus Alou doubled and pinch-hitter Tommie Agee tripled to cut the deficit to 3-2. Anderson, the Cincinnati manager, left Billingham to try to get the win with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice.

After three extra base hits in a row, Anderson figured he couldn't take any more chances and he waived in Tom Hall to Sudakis as the A's beat Texas, 6-6. With the game tied, 6-6, entering the sixth, leadoff batter McKinney singled and Dick Green laid down a sacrifice bunt which Sudakis fielded but threw past the second baseman covering first and second. North then singled to send home McKinney and Bert Campaneris' sacrifice scored Green.

Billingham was deprived of his eighth victory but after three extra base hits in a row, he had no complaints about being lifted. Billingham, of course, wasn't too happy when he was pulled by Anderson in the seventh game of last year's World Series. With the Reds trailing 1-0 in the last of the fifth with one out and the bases loaded, Anderson lifted Billingham for pinch-hitter Norm McRae, who tied the game with a sacrifice fly.

But the Oakland A's jumped on Pedro Borbon for two runs in the sixth inning to win the game 3-2 and the World Series. Since Billingham had allowed only one run in the first inning on a freak bounce, he might have had a shot at winning 2-1 if he'd been left in the game.

Concepcion, who had trouble keeping his average over .200 the past two seasons but is hitting .299 this year, collected his game-winning single after Johnny Bench opened the ninth with a single and moved to second on a sacrifice.

Denis Menke homered in the third for the Reds and Joe Morgan manufactured a run in the fourth when he walked, hit a home run and got credit for his entering the sixth, leadoff batter McKinney singled and Dick Green laid down a sacrifice bunt which Sudakis fielded but threw past the second baseman covering first and second. North then singled to send home McKinney and Bert Campaneris' sacrifice scored Green.

scored the third run in the fifth. In other NL games, Chicago downed Montreal 4-2 in 10 innings and San Diego beat Los Angeles 4-3. The St. Louis at New York, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia and San Francisco at Atlanta games were rained out.

Chicago pushed across two runs in the 10th on one hit to beat Montreal by taking advantage of the wildness of Tom Walker, who walked the first two batters and then missed Jose Cardenal's bunt to load the bases. Ken Rudolph singled in the tie-breaking run and Don Kessinger followed with a sacrifice fly. Bill Bonham worked three innings of two-hit relief to gain the victory.

Fred Kendall singled in the deciding run in the eighth inning to give San Diego the victory over Los Angeles. The hit came off Jim Brewer after starter Andy Messersmith walked Johnny Grubb and Nate Colbert. The Dodgers had tied the score on seventh inning homers on Willie Crawford and pitch. Pete Rose's bunt single Bill Russell.

Ernie Is Unsigned

Big Problem In Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The finals of the NCAA tournament National Basketball Association in March.

Buffalo Braves planned to dine on Kentucky fried chicken and Italian meatballs today to celebrate the signing of the No. 1 draft pick, Ernie DiGregorio. Instead, the feast and a scheduled press conference were cancelled because "problems have arisen" in finalizing a contract with Ernie D.

DiGregorio was scheduled to arrive in Buffalo Wednesday night for a team physical and to sign his multi-year pact with the NBA club today.

The plane arrived but he wasn't on it.

At last reports, team owner Paul Snyder and general manager Eddie Donovan were in New York City conducting additional sessions with DiGregorio and his lawyer, Larry Fleisher. A team spokesman said there would be no further comment "until the problems are resolved."

Snyder told a Wednesday morning press conference that the club and the six-foot guard from Providence had reached an agreement in principle and DiGregorio had "accepted."

The little guard was scheduled to be at Wednesday's press session but he did not show because he was still involved in lengthy negotiations with the Kentucky Colonels of the rival American Basketball Association.

The Colonels, now coached by Joe Mullaney, also drafted DiGregorio No. 2. Mullaney recruited DiGregorio while he was the coach at Providence.

Snyder admitted the Colonels had tried to lure DiGregorio into signing with them by a more lucrative contract.

Ernie D., the leading scorer for the USA team in their recent series with the Russian national team, also guided the Providence Friars to the semi-

Grant in Aid

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — Yugoslavian native Nikola Stan Smith, U.S. Davis cup star, a transfer student from here from Sea Pines, S.C., arrived Wednesday to renew his grant in aid at Washington State University. It was announced Wednesday by Cougar head coach George Raveling.

Oluic, 6-foot-8, selected Washington State over Minnesota, Virginia Tech and Mississippi State.

Slowest Courts Just Don't Faze Lil' Old Chris

By GEOFFREY MILLER

Associated Press Sports Writer PARIS (AP) — Chris Evert is waiting to play tennis on the slowest courts she has ever seen in her 18 years, and it doesn't worry her one bit.

"This surface is different — so what?" The slim little girl from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said as she wandered round the red clay courts of the Roland Garros Stadium, where the French championships opened Wednesday.

Miss Evert, after two years of precocious stardom, is playing the full European Clay court circuit for the first time. Her mother, Colette Evert, is with her.

If the seeding committee has worked things out right, Chris will be playing Margaret Court of Australia in the final for a prize of 25,000 francs or about 5,500 dollars. They played each other three times last year and Chris won twice.

Mrs. Court got back into her stride Wednesday after her disastrous "battle of the sexes" against 55-year-old Bobby Riggs, who beat her in a $10,000 challenge match at Ramona, Calif.

The Australian star, 12 years older than Miss Evert and four-time winner of this title, moved into the second round with a 6-2 victory over Pam Teeguarden of Los Angeles.

The championships got off to a halting and frustrating start. A storm interrupted play for two hours in the afternoon and another ended the evening program almost two hours early.

Stan Smith, U.S. Davis cup star, a transfer student from here from Sea Pines, S.C., arrived Wednesday to renew his grant in aid at Washington State University. It was announced Wednesday by Cougar head coach George Raveling.

Oluic, 6-foot-8, selected Washington State over Minnesota, Virginia Tech and Mississippi State.

Smith is not expected to play until Friday.

Ketcham Wins Over Saugerties

Beacon Edges Kingston in Extra Innings, 4-3

Two Kingston errors on the same play put a runner on second in the top of the eighth inning at Dietz Stadium Wednesday, and Beacon High School pitcher Dave Eraca then won his own game with an RBI single that gave the Bulldogs a 4-3 DCSL victory.

In other league action, Ketcham maintained its lead in the standings by pounding visiting Saugerties, 17-0. Roosevelt defeated John Jay by a 9-3 score. Lourdes topped Poughkeepsie, 8-3, and second place Arlington won a non-league battle with Highland, 8-3.

Working to Beacon's Keith Lerner, Glynn got him to bounce to second baseman Dan Brown. Brown mishandled the attempt, and when he flipped the ball back to the mound, Glynn was looking the other way. The ball rolled off the field and Lerner raced into second.

An infield out moved Lerner over, bringing up Eraca. The Bulldog pitcher then bounced one back over the box and beat Chuck Bouton's throw as Lerner crossed with the winning run. Kingston got one baserunner in its last chance, but Dave Secor set the rest of the Maroons down to save the win.

Walt Houghtaling and John Carter each singled and scored in the sixth frame for KHS. Houghtaling came in on Walt DeBrosky's grounder, and Carter scored when the Beacon left fielder dropped pinch hitter Joe Primo's liner. The Maroons tied it up in the bottom of the seventh on hot-hitting Rocky Secor's third single of the day and Carter's RBI hit.

Milano toiled the first five frames, weathering the early Beacon scores. Eraca and Tom Powers each knocked in a run in the first inning, and Bill Leith singled home another in the second. Dave Decker took over in the sixth before Glynn came on to pitch the final two.

Kingston is now in third place with a league record of 9-5. Beacon evened out its slate at everything else to go along with RBI's. The winners got all their runs in three innings, two in the fourth, nine in the fifth, 16 hits off three Saugerties and six in the fifth.

Larry Panella lasted four frames and took two of the hits by slamming two triples and off DeMarco, who had two of the hits driving in two runs. Rod Marshall cracked two doubles, up, Saugerties slipped to 4-9, and Ken Van Schaack hit while Ketcham picked up its another two-bagger good for two twelfth win in 14 starts.

Armstrongs 3 Homers Pace AA Spree

Those "Double A" sluggers in the City Slo Pitch Softball League found the friendly fences at Block Park an inviting target Wednesday night and proceeded to explode for 15 home runs in four games.

Hobie Armstrong, a Kingston High School football immortal, led the barrage with three, as Bud's Subs routed Beekman Armory, 13-2. Don Byrd had another one for Bud's. Armstrong knocked in six runs.

Six home runs — two each by Ray Lindhorst and Joe Schabot — enlivened Papa Joe's 15-2 rout of Esposito Cleaners in a four-inning "stopper" under the 13-run rule. Chick Boice, John Tremper and Hal Anderson hit one each.

Beekman Arms scored twice in the top of the seventh to nip Anchorage I, 6-5, with Buster Narum, Dan Vogt, John Barnes and Jim Layton hitting for the circuit. Capri 400's scored a 9-4 victory over Colonial Lounge with not a homer in sight.

In 'D' Division game, Gov. man Arms, George Barnes of Clinton Cleaners topped Wear House Fabrics 8-6, with Bob Vitarius hitting a homer for the losers.

JAC Netmen Fail 3rd Time For Fourth Win

PINE PLAINS Coleman High School's tennis team failed for the third straight time to pick up its fourth victory of the year. In a non-league match here Wednesday, Pine Plains dropped the Statesman record to 3-6 on the year with a 5-4 victory.

The close match went down to the final doubles where Brian Sikora and Jay Ososky teamed to defeat Bill Knott and Brian Seche, 8-6. Secora and Ososky had previously picked up wins in the singles to boost the Bombers to an early lead.

Coleman revived in the doubles, winning the first and second battles to even the match. John Farrell and Mary Lynn Bock cut the winners' margin by downing Don Mrowzinski and Marc Schroeder, 8-1. Pete Lyle and Jim Kocsis followed suit with an 8-5 triumph over Neal O'Sullivan and Stewart Coyle.

Farrell began the singles by whipping David Thorpe, 8-4. Mary Lynn Bock trounced O'Sullivan 8-3 to keep it rolling, but Pine Plains swept through the last four singles enroute to the win.

Coyle topped Lyle, 8-6. Kevin Dier beat Kocsis, 8-6. Sikora stopped Knott, 8-4, and Ososky turned back Seche, 8-4.

The Statesmen host Ellenville today in a UCAL matchup.

MANY LUXURY CARS DON'T GO FAR ENOUGH.

All of them have power steering and power brakes as standard. But you have to pay extra for air conditioning and radial tires on some. Others make you pay extra to sit on leather.

Most don't even offer fuel injection or four-wheel power-assisted disc brakes. The Volvo 164E offers all the above as standard.

So does one other popular imported car. But it goes for around $14,000. And that's going too far.

CANCER BENEFIT EVENTS planned for Memorial Day weekend at Locust Tree Golf and Country Club in New Paltz include the second annual Golf Crusade Saturday, open to spectators, and a Champagne Party Sunday from 5 to 7 p. m. in the 18th century Locust Tree clubhouse. Participating in events for American Cancer Society are (L-R) Spats Martino, club manager; Diane Demskie, RN, Miss Hope of Ulster County; and Gil Anderson, Crusade host.

Slate Crusade Golf

NEW PALTZ—An appearance by Jack De Palo of Westchester County highlights the Second Annual Ulster County Golf Crusade Saturday at Locust Tree Golf and Country Club. More than 80 golfers are expected to compete, with proceeds going to the Kingston Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

DePalo's exhibition starts at 4:30 p.m. DePalo appeared at the inaugural event in 1972 but weather conditions and rain hampered his exhibition of driving. Weather forecasts are good for Saturday, although fairways are expected to be heavy with little roll to help DePalo's booming drives in the 300-325 yard range.

Harvey Bostic of Wiltwyck Golf Club, the reigning Ulster County champion, heads the field of name amateur entries. Also listed are Bill Van Aken, Brian Smith, Joe Modica, Doug Sheppard, Charles Stauffer, John Flanagan (sports editor of contingent which also lists Mrs. John Flanagan, the Poughkeepsie Journal) and Dorothy Rifkenbary, Mrs. Marge Hutchins of Woodstock and Bud Hutchins of Woodstock and Bud Cordore of Sawyerkill are in the steak dinner at the completion of their round.

Can One of Four Hopkins Cars Make It?

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI)—Lindsey Hopkins has sunk a fortune into auto racing, but the "big one" has eluded him all these years.

"I'd sure like to win this race," said the wealthy business and sportsman from Miami who is the only owner with four cars in Monday's Memorial Day 500.

Roger McCluskey, winner of the Ontario "500" in California last year, Mel Kenyon, Lee Kunzman and Bob Harkey are his chauffeurs and, after twice coming in second, he hopes one of his proteges will ride all the way to victory lane.

"I think we have a good shot at it, especially if Roger gets going," he said.

It was Jim Rathmann, another Floridian, who drove to second place for Hopkins in 1957 and 1959. Oddly enough, the year he quit Hopkins, in 1960, Rathmann won the race. Hopkins saw his first 500 in 1935 as a guest of then Speedway owner Eddie Rickenbacker.

"I was all carried away with it," he recalled. "I became fascinated with race cars."

He started racing midgets in the late 1930s and bought his first championship car from Lou Moore in 1950, promptly winning the national title with Henry Banks his driver. The following year he entered his first racer at Indianapolis—and he's been here ever since.

Some of his other notable drivers on the circuit have been A. J. Foyt, Pat O'Connor, Bill Vukovich Sr., George Amick, Don Branson and Jimmy McElreath.

It's been a costly operation, conceded the co-owner of the Atlanta Falcons pro football team, but it's been gratifying, too.

"I've been able to attract a lot of good sponsorships," he said. "I've been fortunate in that respect and may even have made a little money."

The Falcons sponsor Kenyon's car in this year's race. Each of his drivers has a backup car. McCluskey put a British-made McLaren into the lineup while the other cars are Dan Gurney Eagles.

Each car has its own crew, including chief mechanic, and all are veterans.

"As a rule they know more about it than I do—they're hard workers," said Hopkins, who is founder and chairman of Security Trust in Miami and a director of various business enterprises, including NorTrust, a Chicago-based bank holding company. He is also on the board of the United States Auto Club, the sanctioning body of the 500.

Hopkins saw his first Speedway race from a box in the grandstand, but nowadays he spends the race in the pits, to be close to his drivers and crews.

"These guys are hard workers," he said. "They're conscientious. I know of no other sport where those involved often work 48 hours without any sleep."

Hopkins compared the advances in auto racing to the jet age in aviation.

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Joe Page, a lefthanded relief pitcher for the New York Yankees from 1944 through 1950, filed a $1.5 million libel suit in federal court here against "Sport" magazine on grounds the publication damaged his reputation with an article that termed him a "drunkard, barfly and brag-gart."

Page charged in his suit that he was libeled in a March 1973 issue of the magazine.

According to the complaint, Page said he was portrayed in the article as a man who has been completely unsuccessful since he left the Yankees in 1954.

The complaint quoted an article written by editor Dick Schaap as saying that Page, "now, mostly, he drinks." The complaint cited the quote as defamatory.

Page has owned a restaurant-tavern near Laughlinton, in western Pennsylvania, for the past 12 years. The suit said the article indicated that Page and his wife, Mildred, were no longer owners of the business and that she was dead.

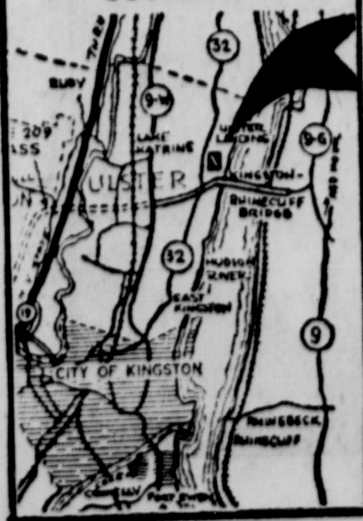

Page said his reputation and that of his wife were damaged in the social and business community by the article.

Suggestions For Conserving Gasoline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration Tuesday listed some suggestions for conserving gasoline during this summer's tight supply situation.

Deputy Treasury Secretary William Simon gave the list in testimony before a House subcommittee on special small business problems. They are:

- 1—Consolidate airline flights to attain higher efficiency per passenger mile and thereby lower fuel consumption.
- 2—Encourage mass transportation. In metropolitan cities people could be encouraged to use

- 3—Reduce speed on all highways which could save 11 per cent fuel when driving 50 m.p.h. instead of 60 m.p.h. and 25 per cent fuel when driving 60 m.p.h. instead of 70 m.p.h. Legislation requiring 50 m.p.h. maximum speed on state highways and interstates might be required.
- 4—Keep engine in top shape. A poorly tuned engine reduces mileage by 10 per cent.
- 5—Form car pools.
- 6—Plan trips to stores—combining visits to cleaners, drug, department and grocery stores.
- 7—Use air conditioners sparingly.

Lower Prices On Vegetables This Summer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Housewives can look forward to lower vegetable prices this summer despite damaging wet winter weather in the nation's "salad bowl," California growers say.

"Between the middle of June and the beginning of July, production should get back to normal, and we'll have some pretty cheap stuff," said Leslie Hubbard of the Western Growers Association.

But until July 1, prices are expected to remain at the high levels that have prevailed all spring in the wake of a disastrous siege of winter weather in California.

California grows 70 per cent of the country's lettuce, 78 per cent of the canning tomatoes, 35 per cent of the fresh tomatoes, 90 per cent of the broccoli, 40 per cent of the carrots, 75 per cent of the cauliflower, 65 per cent of the celery and 80 per cent of the cantaloupes.

Vegetable growers were late getting their winter crops planted, and production was severely curtailed.

Lettuce is particularly sensitive to weather conditions.

Cold weather means a shorter growing day, smaller heads and smaller yields per acre. Wet weather delays planting. In a dry year, the grower must pay more for a greater amount of irrigation water. Hot and humid weather brings bigger insecticide bills.

Lettuce hit a peak of more than 50 cents a head in some stores this spring but is likely to drop to 29-39 cents, according to growers. The same trend is forecast for most other vegetables.

Housewives Watch Computer For Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Economists are drawing up new contracts. To pensioners it could mean higher incomes, and to divorcees bigger alimony payments.

The rise or fall in the cost of living is computed by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics from information sent in by 240 men and women in 56 cities across the country. These part-time government workers roam through 18,000 retail stores and service establishments, checking prices on 400 items.

Mailed questionnaires are used to collect figures on apartment rents, bus fares, utility rates, newspaper prices and other items not requiring personal visits. Housing costs, college tuition and used-car prices are collected by other government agencies.

All totaled, information on 120,000 individual prices pours into the bureau where it is sifted by government clerks, statisticians and economists. Fed into a computer, the data emerges as the Consumer Price Index.

The bureau has been compiling the living-cost reports since 1913, periodically updating the items sampled to account for changing spending patterns and new products. The latest revision was completed in 1964. Janet Norwood, the bureau's associate deputy commissioner, claims the index has no more than .1 per cent error.

For the first three months of the year, the index has shown a sharp rise in prices at a seasonally adjusted rate of 8.8 per cent, the worst inflation in 22 years.

The March index for all items showed a climb of 1.2 index points from February, up from 128.6 to 129.8. This represented a rise of .9 per cent for the month.

The index figure, based on 1967 prices, means it took $129.80 in March to pay for the same "market basket" of typical family goods and services that cost $100 six years ago.

A companion report, based on industry payroll figures, shows average weekly wages for some 58 million rank-and-file workers and how they are faring against inflation. The March report said the average weekly wage of $140.23 was up 7.13 cents, but down 12 cents in purchasing power from the previous month because of inflation. The average wage was up $8.13 over the year, but represented only a $1.51 increase in purchasing power.

IBM Testimony Continues

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A former IBM engineer has testified that nearly all of IBM's trade secrets were actually old technology in the computer industry.

Harold S. Wang, now president of Enhancement Technology Corp., of San Jose, Calif., said Wednesday that IBM transferred the technology in its central processing units to a control unit.

IBM contends Telex Corp., of Tulsa, copied the IBM control unit. The current testimony involves an IBM counterclaim for $25 million. The main issue is Telex's anti-trust suit, an action which seeks $1.2 billion in damages.

Wang did say, however, that before Jan. 1, 1971, none of the 20 features that IBM contends were trade secrets in the controller appeared in any other disk drive controller.

LEGAL NOTICE

FAMILY COURT
STATE OF NEW YORK COUNTY OF ULSTER

In the Matter of
EARL GARY QUICK
(AKA CARL GARY QUICK)
A child under the Age of Eighteen years alleged to be a Permanently
Neglected Child.

Docket No. B-6-73
SUMMONS
IN THE NAME OF THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK
TO Harold Quick, address unknown this Court having been filed in this Court in the care of Ulster County Dept. of Social Services the Petitioner, is a permanently neglected child as defined by Article 6, Part 1 of the Family Court Act; a copy of said Petition being announced hereto.

You are hereby summoned to appear before this Court at County
Office Building, 244 Fair Street,
Kingston, New York, on Tuesday, June 19, 1973 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day to show cause why the Court should not enter an order depriving you of all the rights of custody of said child and awarding custody of said child to the petitioning authorized agency as a permanently neglected child as provided by law.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that if said child is adjudged to be a permanently neglected child and if custody is awarded to said authorized agency, said child may be adopted with the consent of said authorized agency, without further notice to you.

In the event of your default, the Court will hear and determine the petition, as provided by law.

Dated: May 1, 1973
By Order of the Court
THELMA B. CLAUSS
Chief Clerk of Family Court
County of Ulster, N. Y.
RICHARD W. GRIGGS, Attorney Ulster County Department of Social Services
240 Fair Street
Kingston, New York 12401

At a Term of the Family Court of the State of New York, held in and for the County of Ulster at Kingston, New York, on May 1, 1973.

PRESENT:
HON. HUGH R. ELWYN, Judge

In the Matter of
EARL GARY QUICK
(AKA CARL GARY QUICK)
A child under the Age of Eighteen years, alleged to be a Permanently
Neglected Child.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
Docket No. B-6-73
A Petition under Article 6, Part 1 of the Family Court Act having been duly filed in this Court by the Ulster County Department of Social Services, an authorized agency, alleging that the above child in the care of said Petitioner, by its sworn petition with attached exhibits, having furnished proof to my satisfaction that the place or places of residence of Harold Quick, one of the persons interested in this proceeding or concerning whom the Court is required to have information upon this proceeding is unknown and cannot, after diligent inquiry be ascertained and that personal notice of the Summons in this proceeding cannot with due diligence be made upon said person within the State; and the Court having given due consideration thereto; now therefore it is ORDERED that service of the summons herein upon Harold Quick be made by publication thereof in one newspaper, to wit: in The Daily Freeman, published in the County of Ulster, once in each of four successive weeks.

AND the Court being satisfied by said Petition and exhibits attached thereto that the Petitioner cannot with reasonable diligence, ascertain a place or places where the said
Harold Quick would probably receive matter transmitted through the United States Postal Service;

IT IS ORDERED that the mailing of said summons and copy of this Order be and they hereby are dispensed with.

ties and County of Ulster, New York, on the 26th day of June, 1973, at 11:00 in the forenoon of that day the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described being as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PIECE OR PARCEL OF LAND situate, located and being in the Village of Saugerties, Ulster County, New York, being a portion of the same conveyed to U. Grant Teetsell by Henry Genthner by deed dated August 18, 1921, and recorded in the Ulster County
Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds 484, page 13, August 13, 1921, and bounded and described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point on the southeasterly side of Teetsell Street, which point or place of beginning is two hundred thirty-five feet distant measured on the southeasterly side of Teetsell Street from the corner formed by the intersection of the southeast line of Teetsell Street with the southwest line of Ulster Avenue and from said point or place of beginning running southwesterly following the southeasterly line of Teetsell Street to its termination where now or formerly stood an old stone wall, thence south thirty-seven degrees and eighteen minutes west to a corner of said stone wall thence following the line of now or formerly an old rail fence south thirteen degrees and twenty-five minutes east three hundred thirty-three and six-tenths feet thence north eighty-seven degrees and one minute east thirty-six and five-tenths feet to a corner of a fence thence north twenty-seven degrees and twenty-nine minutes east four hundred twenty-eight and four-tenths feet to where now or formerly stood an apple tree, thence north seventy-three degrees and eighteen minutes west for a distance which intersect a line erected at right angles with Teetsell Street from the point of beginning on Teetsell Street and thence westerly following the line so erected at right angles to Teetsell Street to the point on Teetsell Street being the place of beginning.

The premises hereby conveyed are bounded generally as follows:
Northeasterly by a lot fifty feet in width lying between the premises hereby conveyed and premises heretofore conveyed by the party of the first part to John Simmons and wife, northwesterly by Teetsell Street, southwesterly by line of lands of now or formerly David O'Neill, and southeasterly by line of lands of now or formerly of one Cole.

The above described premises are expressly conveyed subject to a Grant of Gas Lines Right of Way given to Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. dated July 8, 1957 and recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on October 21, 1957 in Book 1016 of Deeds at page 381, reference to which is hereby made.

Being the same premises conveyed to Clyde F. Gardner by Deed dated August 22, 1961 and recorded in the Ulster County
Clerk's Office August 23, 1961 in GENERAL TENDENCIES: Very confusing and difficult influences are in effect today and tonight, and you would certainly be wise to avoid getting a chip-on-the-shoulder attitude that most everyone is likely to be expressing now. Instead show your understanding and compassion for whomever you meet who needs your help.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) don't think that others are imposing on you when it is only the conditions around you that are limiting. Lend a helping hand to those who have less than you. Talk some plan over

Anyone who thinks the temperature can't drop to zero in May wasn't in our boss' office this afternoon.

WHY WE SAY

TRUNK
TREES: Early trunks were devised very simply. A trunk of a tree was cut down, hollowed out and fitted with a cover, thus giving the same name to the part of a tree and the chest used for packing.

with a prominent person you know.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Don't try to force a good friend to see things as you do, but give a chance to express self in own fashion. Avoid that party that could be a real bore. Do what pleases you the most in evening.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make the corrections that are necessary. Make sure you observe every law and regulation that applies to you. Being careful with your accounts improves your credit.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You think you have good ideas, but some phase of them could be very bad and you could lose a great deal by putting them in operation hastily. Stick to the tried and true. Steer clear of a troublemaker.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use your best judgment instead of relying on intuition which is apt to be somewhat off now. Show more generosity with mate. Reach a far better understanding for the future.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Listen to that associate who is rather critical since it could be constructive criticism. That outside matter should be avoided as you do not understand all the facts. Do some studying tonight that is helpful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Now that you know exactly what your duties are, handle them in an even more correct fashion than you had thought possible. Give more attention to your diet. Avoid activities that may be injurious to your health.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You want to have pleasure but make certain you do not go beyond the norm and regret it later on. Make sure you get that hobby perfected. Save time for one who has a good plan to talk over with you. Advance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Postpone that talk with kin, or you could get into a big argument now. Know what the bone of contention is and quietly remove it. Evening is fine for light entertainment at home. Make it a musical evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have much shopping to do as well as appointments to keep today, so be sure you do not lose your purse or get shortchanged in your hurry. Show you are an ingenious person. Don't be talkative.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your monetary matters may be in a rather precarious position, so do something constructive about it now. Improve your property in some way and make it more attractive. valuable. Do something kind for a friend tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study yourself well and see where you can make improvements, especially dietwise and healthwise. Accept invitations to group affairs and be sure you do not speak out of turn because of the confusion of conversations.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people with a definite flair for the artistic, but should be taught early to strive for perfection instead of being happy with what is once done. Teach also awareness of modern trends so as to keep abreast or ahead of others. Much need for the right philosophy of life here. The field of religion could be very good. This child will need careful handling early, since the nature is highly sensitive.

TEEN FORUM

BOY SNATCHER: (Q) Cindy just waits till I get a new boyfriend so she can take him away from me. She makes me so mad!

Any boy I like, she breathes down his neck and hangs all over him. If she can't get him away from me she tries to run him off.

When I am sitting with a boy she comes right up and sits down between us. I hope you know what I mean. It's awful! Please help me.—Robbed in Rhode Island.

(A) A boy who can be dragged away by the nose of tricks as crude as Cindy's can't be very smart, so maybe you are lucky so far in losing your boy friends to her.

I think it is possible that neither you nor she is getting very high quality boy friends. Start thinking positively about yourself and looking for a boy who doesn't fall for any girl who gives him the eye.

Also look for a quality girl friend. Cindy doesn't seem quality.

NO WORK: (Q) I met Joel on a vacation trip to the beach last summer and we had a fantastic time. It lasted a whole week.

We wrote each other after that and in November we got together again for two days. We hoped to do the same at Christmas but he wasn't able to make it. He lives about 200 miles from me.

Since then he hasn't written, and it's been a long time. I have written him twice, but no answer.

What should I do?—16 in Pennsylvania.

(A) It is possible Joel didn't get your letters. Write him one more time and be sure to put your return address on the envelope so that it will come back to you if he has moved and left no forwarding address.

If you do not hear from him after that your long-distance friendship has faded, as such friendships often do after time has done its work.

Do not mourn. Instead, turn your attention to a boy or boys you see regularly at school or in your community.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001.)

Exhausting Experience

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The televised Senate Watergate hearings can be an exhausting experience for viewers trying to keep up with the ceaseless flow of questions, answers and formal statements. Intricacies pile upon complexities, and thus the hours and hours of words and words sometimes leave one with a thirst for a cool beer on a warm beach. As the details and complications unfold, one instinctively searches for little human details to counteract the formalities. Perhaps it is the taste in clothes of someone being questioned that catches the eye. At one point in Tuesday's hearings, I found myself sizing up James McCord's dark blue suit. I noticed he didn't appear to have a dandruff problem, and I envied him for that. There were some moments in the hearings on Tuesday that probably broke the atmosphere of complexity for viewers. As an instance: Samuel Dash, the Senate Committee's majority counsel, had McCord, at his table, show how to bug a telephone (which was not connected). There were closeups of the procedure. Then, later, there were the remarks of John Caulfield about his old friendship with McCord and how they once even thought of going into business together—before the matter now being investigated affected their personal relationship. McCord, who remained in the hearing room to listen to Caulfield's lengthy opening statement, sat several rows behind him. And the camera caught his reactions to various things Caulfield said. The absence of women as key on-camera figures in the video proceedings, at least to this point, is noticeable. One woman's name has come up in an important way in the questioning, and there are females in the hearing room, and, for all a viewer knows, perhaps working on staffs behind the scenes. But on-camera, up to now, the Watergate hearings are a male province. And in this province we daily become more acquainted with the senators. Most of their work, naturally, is heavy-going material. Thus, our attention, which may wander from time to time, is snapped back when one of them injects a personal comment, as when Sen. Howard Baker, before paraphrasing a McCord statement, said to him: "If I'm wrong for goodness sakes tell me." He wasn't. In fact, one of the things that stands out in the televised hearings is the astuteness throughout of the senators and their two counsel. In this era of information explosion there is an unending need to work at just keeping up with the flood of material. But you can concentrate on things—especially video's fact output—for only so long before a sort of dulling effect sets in. Shortly after Tuesday's televised hearings were adjourned until today, I flipped the dial, and, by chance, up popped Cary Grant's face in an old movie. It certainly was nice to see him.

Memorial Day Services Planned Throughout Ulster

KINGSTON For the first time in nearly a decade, Memorial Day, May 28, will be observed this year during a period when American military men are not fighting and dying in Vietnam.

Veterans' organizations and civic groups in Ulster and Dutchess Counties will observe the day with parades, speeches, graveside services, and other expressions of esteem for the servicemen who lost their lives in the service of their country.

The Veterans' Committee of the Ulster County Legislature has issued a reminder that a local law restricts the conduct of business on Memorial Day. The law also prohibits all advertising of special sales "which detract and/or desecrate the true purpose, significance and observance of Memorial Day."

Some businesses, such as the sale of food, newspapers, gasoline products, drugs and medicine and some other items, are permitted to remain open on Memorial Day. Copies of the law are available at the County Legislature offices on the fifth floor of the County Office Building, and a copy of the law will be posted on the bulletin board in the main floor lobby.

Violations are punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 or imprisonment of up to 30 days, or both. Businesses which have special situations may contact the legislature office for detailed information.

KINGSTON

In Kingston, the Memorial Day observance will be under the sponsorship of the Kingston Veterans Association, a group of six veteran organizations. Benjamin Gulnick is chairman and Joseph C. Hasset, commander of the Kingston Memorial Chapter 156, Disabled American Veterans, is parade chairman.

All color guards, including those from musical units, will gather at the newly completed Veterans Memorial on the front lawn of the old City Hall at 1:45 p.m. and the ceremony begins at 2 p.m.

Following the National Anthem and the opening prayer by Msgr. John J. O'Reilly of St. Joseph's Church in Kingston, the memorial address will be delivered by Mayor Francis R. Koenig. Following his speech, the PFC Michael Santorski Memorial Scholarship award will be presented and a closing prayer by the Rev. John H. Gilmore, pastor of Riverview Baptist Church, will precede a volley from the firing squad of Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the playing of "Taps."

Parade units will then assemble in the rear of Kingston High School. The parade route is north on Broadway, left onto Albany Avenue to Pearl Street, along Pearl Street and right onto Wall Street to North Front Street to Dietz Stadium, where the parade will disband.

Included in the line of march will be police, the combined color guard of the service organizations, Koenig and City Council members, firemen, representatives of the Sheriff's Department, Chapter 156, DAV, Catholic War Veterans, Post 1386, VFW with Auxiliary and Junior Auxiliary, Boy Scouts, the Knott's League, the Marine Corps League and Young Marines, American Legion Post 150 and Auxiliary and Gold Star Mothers, Girl Scouts, Young Americans for Freedom, and numerous other detachments.

Music will be furnished by the Kingston High School Band, the Saugerties High School Band, Bridge City Cadets, M. Clifford Miller Junior High School Band, the Continental Cadets, Kingston Indians, the Hurley Post 5086 VFW Drum and Bugle Corps in full Colonial dress, and the Troop 12 Indians.

In a smaller but no less significant ceremony the "50 Club," a downtown Kingston neighborhood social club active in charitable work, will hold its annual parade and memorial service.

Young Marines, Girl Scouts, Rescue Hook and Ladder, and the club itself are the organizations that will participate in the parade, which begins at 11 a.m. The line of march begins in front of the Cornell Fire Station on Abel Street and proceeds to the Cornell Park Memorial Tablet where a short service will be held. All marchers will be provided with American flags by the club. President Tony North appointed Frank Sass and Tom Coughlin as co-chairmen for this year's program. Msgr. Francis Brennan, pastor of St. Peter's Church, will be guest speaker for the memorial service.

HURLEY

In Hurley, Memorial Day observances will be sponsored by Hurley Memorial Post 5086, VFW.

The parade will begin at 11 a.m. from the Hurley Firehouse, and proceed along Old Route 209 and Main Street. The marchers will take a right turn on Millbrook Road, a left on Foerster Street and a left on Zandhoeck Road before stopping at the "Big Cemetery" to honor American war veterans buried there.

From there, the parade will continue to the "Old Historic Cemetery" just off Main Street, where the main ceremony will take place. After observances at the cemetery, the parade will return to the Firehouse, where it will disperse.

TOWN OF ESOPUS

American Legion Post 1298 in the Town of Esopus, will kick off its annual parade at 10 a.m. from the Grand Union parking lot on Broadway in Port Ewen. The parade will form at 9:30 (Port Ewen firemen are requested to report to the firehouse at 9 a.m.).

There will be two divisions, with the Kingston Indians providing music for the first division and the M. Clifford Miller School band and the Port Ewen School band providing music for the second division.

The parade will proceed to the Riverview Cemetery where Stephanie Moore of the Port Ewen School and Heidi Froehlich of the Anna Devine School will give Memorial Day Addresses. Introductions will be by Post 1298 Commander Norman Bohan who will also present American Legion awards and place the wreath. Invocation and Benediction will be offered by Post chaplain the Rev. James Kerins, CSSR.

The parade will return along the same line of march and disband in the Grand Union parking lot. In the event of rain, all participants will assemble at the town hall at 10 a.m.

ELLENVILLE

In Ellenville, the Memorial Day parade is being sponsored by the Veterans Council, composed of Cook-Taylor Post

111, American Legion Post 341, Jewish War Veterans, and Edgar S. Taylor Post 1455, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Participants will gather at 8:45 a.m. for ceremonies at Fantinekill Cemetery. Following the invocation by the Rev. Joseph F. Hamilton of St. Mary's and St. Andrew's Church, Miss Marion Rose of the Daughters of the Union will speak. A salute and "Taps" will be furnished by the 57th M.P. Company Academy at West Point, and the benediction will be by the Rev. Frank Wilhelm of Christ Lutheran Church.

The parade begins at 9 a.m. from the old Channel Master plant across from the cemetery. The line of march will be south on Center Street, east to Market Street, and north to Liberty Square for ceremonies there.

Following the invocation by the Rev. John S. Armfield of St. John's Church, introduction of the grand marshal, the Pledge of Allegiance, and a vocal selection by Miss Nancy Haener, Robert F. Woodhouse, deputy mayor of Ellenville, will address the gathering. Wreaths will be placed by representatives of the Jewish War Veterans, American Legion, the VFW, and the American Legion Auxiliary. Benediction will be by Rabbi Herman Eisner of Congregation Ezrah Israel.

Following the services at Liberty Square, parade units will march east on Canal Street and disband at the VFW building.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock Post 1026, American Legion, is sponsoring a parade that begins Monday noon on Schoonmaker Lane. Included in the line of march are the American Legion and Auxiliary, Gold Star Mothers, the Ontario Senior Band, Girl Scouts and Brownies and Boy Scouts and Cuos from Woodstock and West Hurley, West Hurley and Woodstock volunteer firemen, the Catskill Drum and Bugle Corps Little Leaguers, Jaycees, foreign exchange students, the West Hurley Lions Club, Boys Staters, the Woodstock Riding Club, Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, Supervisor Verner May, and Ulster

OLIVE

The Memorial Day parade in the Town of Olive, jointly sponsored by Post 1627, American Legion, and Post 995, Veterans of Foreign Wars, gets under way at 9:30 a.m. from Davis Corner in Olivebridge. Marchers include both veterans organizations and their auxiliaries, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and the five companies of the Town of Olive Volunteer Fire Department. Music will be furnished by the Ontario Senior High School Band.

Marchers will retrace the route of the original parade for a mile to Olivebridge Methodist Church, for a memorial service in which a bouquet of flowers will be placed on the plaque in front of the church. A volley by the combined AL-VFW firing squad will honor deceased veterans, and "Taps" will be played by buglers from the high school band.

The afternoon will be devoted to the town's Sesquicentennial Celebration in West Shokan.

ROSENDALE-TILLSON

Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, American Legion, will sponsor Memorial Day activities in that area. The parade will form at the Tillson Fire House and move out at 11:30 a.m. with members of the Legion, the Ladies' Auxiliary, Boy Scout Troop 17 and Cub Pack 17, Girl Scouts and Brownies, and volunteer fire companies from Rosendale, Tillson, Bloomington, Binnewater and Cottekill in the line of march.

The parade route will be along Springtown Road to the Rosendale Veterans War Memorial on Route 32, where memorial services honoring deceased veterans will be held.

NEW PALTZ

Sullivan-Schafer Post 176, American Legion, of New Paltz, will observe Memorial Day in a similar way to past years, with memorial services in four local cemeteries followed by the annual parade.

Legion members will assemble at the Legion Home at 7 a.m. The schedule of services is for St. Charles Cemetery, Gardiner, at 7:30 a.m.; Modena Rural Cemetery, Modena, 7:45 a.m.; Lloyd Cemetery, Highland, 8 a.m.; and New Paltz Rural Cemetery, New Paltz, 8:30 a.m.

The parade will assemble at 9:30 a.m. on North Manheim Boulevard and will step off promptly at 10 a.m. The route is along North Manheim Boulevard, west on Main Street, south on North Chestnut Street, and back to the Legion Home for memorial services.

Alex J. Nirenberg, a member of the Ulster County Legislature and a veteran, will deliver the principal address. William H. Gruner Jr. is parade chairman, assisted by H. Edward Blake and Edward Cahill.

PHOENICIA

In Phoenicia, the Memorial Day parade sponsored by Phoenicia Post 950, American Legion, moves out at 9 a.m. from the Cobblestone Lodge on Route 214.

The line of march will be down Old Route 28 (Main Street) to the Parish Hall Baseball field where a memorial ceremony will be held.

Parade music will be furnished by the Ontario Junior Band. Included in the line of march are Legion and Auxiliary members, the Town of Shandaken VFW post, Phoenicia Poppy Queen Karen Erickson, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Little Leaguers, and the Phoenicia Shandaken, Mt. Tremper and Big Indian-Oliveira companies of the Town of Shandaken Volunteer Fire Department.

STONE RIDGE

In Stone Ridge, parade units will assemble at 10:30 a.m. at the Town Hall instead of the previously announced campus of Ulster County Community College.

American Legion Post 1512 will sponsor the parade, which begins at 11 a.m. Marchers will go to the Legion Hall where memorial services will be held. Parade chairmen George Worden and Edward Lowe said that the Emperor Guardsmen from Ellenville, who recently disbanded, had been scheduled to furnish music for the parade and that it has been impossible to obtain a replacement band on short notice.
